ROOT CAUSES OF THE ECONOMIC MELTDOWN

1) THE CREATION OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE [FED]. This is centralized banking as practiced in the U.S. The birth of the FED was signed into law by President Woodrow Wilson (D) on Dec. 24, 1913. Reflecting on this he later said, "I am a most unhappy man; unwittingly I have ruined my country...."

The FED is a private consortium of bankers the heads of which are appointed by the executive branch of government. Many people believe that their first loyalty lies with bankers—including Wall Street bankers and foreign bankers—more than with the American people.

All money in the U.S. originated as gold or silver coin, including former Federal Reserve Notes [FRNs]. Originally, gold or silver was held in reserve against dollar bills, or notes. The FED creates all U.S. money in the form of FRNs, but today there is no actual reserve and these 'Notes' are no longer redeemable in gold or silver, which is in clear violation of the U.S. Constitution: "nothing but gold and silver coin shall be used as tender" (Art. II, Sec. 10, Cl. 1).

2) THEFT OF THE PEOPLE'S GOLD by Franklin Delano Roosevelt (D) in 1933. This is arguably the greatest plunder in the history of the world, including the escapades of conquistador Cortez, and the sacking by the Mongol warlord Genghis Khan. FDR threatened American citizens with 10 years in jail and a $10,000 fine if they did not turn in their gold savings to the government. Due to inflation, $10,000 is $425,000 in today's 'money,' an increase by a factor of 42.5. After seizing the people's gold, Roosevelt paid 20 paper dollars per ounce, and then promptly revalued the gold to $34. His edict and subsequent larceny took gold out of circulation in America and artificially drove its value down due to its absence of circulation. Nevertheless, at this writing, gold is $850 per ounce, and even at this, it is likely undervalued minimally by a factor of eight. See: (4).

FDR's violations of the U.S. Constitution: The right to contract shall not be impaired, and, gold and silver coin as tender, see: Art. II, Sec. 10, Clause 1. A further transgressed Right: to be justly compensated when private property is seized by the government.

Initially, the Supreme Court would not support Roosevelt's treason. However, in response to FDR's threats to 'pack' the court with many new judges—judges to be handpicked by him to support his crime—the Supreme Court capitulated and conspired with him in the exploitation of the American people.

NOTE: Historically, there have been many countries whose fiat paper currency (unbacked by gold or silver) crashed as an inevitable result of inflation leading to hyperinflation. Not infrequently, the government itself collapsed along with its junk currency as a result of the ensuing violence. Notable examples are the German Weimar Inflation of 1921 where German Marks depreciated 3 trillion to 1 against gold, and Zimbabwe today, where a roll of toilet paper costs more than 500,000 of their dollars, and where savings, pensions, and other financial assets have been completely destroyed.

Pentagon Wants Packs of Robots To Detect "Non-cooperative Humans"

What 'cha going to do when the Robo-dogs come for you?

Steve Watson
Infowars.net

The Pentagon has put out a request to contractors to develop teams of robots that can search for, detect and track "non-cooperative" humans in "pursuit/evasion scenarios".

The request, which can be read on the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Program website here, calls for a "Multi-Robot Pursuit System" to be operated by one person.

The proposal describes the need to "...develop a software/hardware suit that would enable a multi-robot team, together with a human operator, to search for and detect a non-cooperative human subject.

The main research task will involve determining the movements of the robot team through the environment to maximize the opportunity to find the subject, while minimizing the chances of missing the subject. If the operator is an active member of the search team, the software should minimize the chance that the operator may encounter the subject."

It is seemingly important to the Pentagon that the operator should not have to come into contact with the person being chased down by the machines.

The description continues: "The software should maintain awareness of line-of-sight, as well as communication and sensor limits. It will be necessary to determine an appropriate sensor suite that can reliably detect human presence and is suitable for implementation on small robotic platforms."

Paul Marks at The New Scientist points out that given the propensity to adapt this kind of military style technology for domestic purposes such as crowd control, the proposal is somewhat concerning. "...how long before we see packs of droids hunting down pesky demonstrators with paralyzing weapons? Or could the packs even be lethally armed?"

Marks asks.

Marks interviewed Steve Wright, an expert on police and military technologies, from Leeds Metropolitan University, who commented: "The giveaway here is the phrase 'a non-cooperative human subject'.

What we have here are the beginnings of something designed to enable robots to hunt down humans like a pack of dogs. Once the software is perfected we can reasonably anticipate that they will become autonomous and become armed.

We can also expect such systems to be equipped with human detection and tracking devices including sensors which detect human breath and the radio waves associated with a human heart beat. These are technologies already developed."

Indeed, noted as PHASE III on the Pentagon proposal is the desire to have the robots developed to "intelligently and autonomously search".

Earlier this year another top robotics expert, Noel Sharkey, Professor of Artificial Intelligence and Robotics at the University of Sheffield, warned listeners to the Alex Jones show that the world may be sleepwalking into a potentially lethal technocracy and has called for safeguards on such technology to be put into place.

Professor Sharkey stated: "If you have an autonomous robot then it's going to make decisions who to kill, when to kill and where to kill them. The scary thing is that the reason this has to happen is because of mission complexity and also so that when there's a problem with communications you can send a robot in with no communication and it will decide who to kill, and that is really worrying to me."

The professor also warned that such autonomous weapons could easily be used in the future by law enforcement officials in cities, pointing out that South Korean authorities are already planning to have a fully armed autonomous robot police force in their cities.

Perhaps one candidate for the Pentagon's "Multi-Robot Pursuit System" proposal is Boston Dynamics' rather frightening BigDog (pictured herein). The latest version of this hydraulic quadruped robot can carry up to 340lb load and recovers its balance even after sliding on ice and snow.

CAPITALISM WITHOUT CAPITAL

By Ron Paul

It has been long understood that our federal government is going deeper into debt, consistently raising the debt ceiling and demonstrating no fiscal restraint. In recent years, debt ceiling increases have been placed in “must pass” legislation as a means to guarantee that Republicans as well as Democrats would vote for them when Congress was under Republican control.

We also know our nation’s “negative savings rate” reflects the habits of private citizens, showing those habits to be not tremendously different than the habits of the public sector. Yet, the signs of decline are becoming ever more apparent. So apparent, in fact, that it seems unlikely that bailouts or other gimmicks will have even short term success. More inflation, and creating moral hazard by bailing out egregious offenders, is a recipe for disaster. These activities can seem to provide some short term relief, but it seems we are now at a significant crisis point, where monetary policy gimmicks don’t provide the band-aids they did in the past.

Not only is our nation on the verge of bankruptcy, but so are its people and private institutions. We are now repeatedly hearing about businesses “needing to access the credit market to make payroll.” This is an unmistakable sign of more dire consequences ahead for the economy. If businesses must borrow just to make payroll, this is evidence of a severe undercapitalization that cannot be sustained, even for the short run.

Couple these facts with items such as the explosion of the “pay day loan” industry and the unmasking of the false sense of economic well-being is nearly complete. These pay day loan companies use preferred access to easy credit to inject cash into the hands of the working poor. They are nearly always set up in lower-income neighborhoods. These people, who are struggling to buy food and pay rent, get addicted to the credit drug. Their standard of living is only further depressed by the interest payments on these loans that make them profitable to their providers. Thus, the recipients are left even less capable of paying for items such as food and housing in the long run, without using this credit again and again.

These people are often the very ones being paid by businesses who “borrow to make payroll.” This is the dark underbelly of the fiat money, borrow and spend economy this nation has been building. As the government takes over more and more functions of the economy many see the rise of socialism as an antidote to this failure of “capitalism”. However, the fact remains that our economy has been increasingly running on debt, not capital. Capitalism does not exist without capital and debt is not, has never been and will never be a form of capital. Only now are we seeing the more dire implications of an economy without capital.

UPDATE ON THE KINGDOM OF HAWAII

FOREIGN JURISDICTION - STATE OF HAWAII INC., COMMITS TREASON-REMOVES BY FORCE HIS MAJESTY AKAHI NUI FROM THE PALACE OF THE ROYAL FAMILY - AND WHAT ‘GOOD MORNING AMERICA’ GOOD OL’ MASS MEDIA IS FAILING TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE KINGDOM OF HAWAII NATION

By Vanessa Fimbres,
King’s Consul
The Kingdom of Hawaii Nation

“His Majesty is searching for justice in a world where justice, if it exists, has become only another commodity for sale. Yet within his faith, King Akahi Nui fiercely clings to old myths, words, concepts of right and freedom and God’s granted hope that gives comfort that justice will prevail.”

~ Vanessa Fimbres,
King’s Legal Consul

As usual latest events are described, but there is no explanation of what led up to them or caused them. News reports, especially on television, are typically given without much overt context. The news has become more like entertainment than information or education and filled with propaganda, misinformation and half truths. Even the “facts” that are presented are often wrong or misleading as seen once again on ABC’s Good Morning America Weekend Edition with Drew Millhon, who interviewed His Majesty Akahi Nui and her Highness Akahi Wahine. Mr. Millhon was one of the rare few that the Majesties honored with showing their priceless documentation which included the 26 Ft. Royal Family Lineal Scroll and more that I will get into later. Drew Millhon as an anchor man and reporter just proved yet again that Mass Media is inherently corrupt and showed again how a small number of owners and editors exercise great power over what is communicated to large numbers of people. And that ABC and Drew Millhon like so many other propaganda journalists and reporters who shape the news providing selected information would rather give much more attention to misinformation, crime, disasters and strife than to the truth, facts, harmonious intentions, acts of kindness and win-win conflict resolution. But some media are much better than others, judged by the criteria of accuracy, quality and independence of special interests. The Americans Bulletin as well as other alternative news outlets believe that it is possible to promote and develop enlightened, responsive, truly educative mass media and Truth, which is why I chose this forum for this article.

And with that allow me to lay some foundation; Majesty Akahi Nui is the 100% Royal Blue Blood Lineal Heir of the Kingdom of Hawaii a direct descendant of King Kamehameha III as documented by Honorable Lorrin Andrews; In the matter of the Estate of His Majesty Kamehameha III, Judge of Probate - Cause Number; 2410 dated April 2, 1853 by the Supreme Court of Hawaii. Majesty Akahi Nui is the lawful, rightful and legitimate owner of the Iolani Palace in Honolulu Hawaii and of which Majesty Akahi Nui is holder in due course of the only clear and lawful Deed and title for the last 8 years. And as King for the Kingdom of Hawaii Nation and as the 100% Royal Blue Blood Lineal Heir to the Kingdom Throne, Majesty Akahi Nui has Diplomatic Immunity and Diplomatic Standing, is inviolate and outside the jurisdiction of the STATE OF HAWAII de-facto government.

On August 15, 2008 His Royal Majesty King Akahi Nui along with his Queen, Cabinet Members, House of Nobles and Royal Guards were forced against their will to leave the Iolani Palace, handcuffed and arrested by a Foreign Jurisdiction. This Palace is rightfully the property of the ‘Kingdom of Hawai’i and is owned by and lawfully belongs to King Majesty Akahi Nui and Queen Akahi Wahine. Majesty Akahi Nui holds the only clear and lawful Title and Deed to the Iolani Palace which was recorded out of necessity at the STATE OF HAWAII BUREAU OF CONVEYANCES on December 14, 2000 at 10:00AM and reference therein to Document No.: of 2000-176035 TAX KEY MAP No.: 2-1-25-2. The Palace of the Royal Family is located on the Island of Oahu, in which Majesty Akahi Nui holds the only true and lawful clear Title and Deed not only to the Island of Oahu, but of all the Islands of Hawai’i. The Oahu Deed was recorded out of necessity at the STATE OF HAWAII BUREAU OF CONVEYANCES January 11, 2002 and holds the Document No.: of R2002005573/ R20022005574.

The Majesties, their Cabinet Members and Royal Guards have been “Informationally Charged” with Burglary of a second degree and forced to appearance into a foreign

Why Claudia was on an Incommunicado Vacation

By Claudia Montelione

To dispel any “urban legends”, here is the real story of how Claudia, proprietor of WebMavin.com and NaturallyPrudent.com (formerly 6towns.com/driving) happened upon a prison experience.

In the summer of 2007, Claudia, a notary public in Pennsylvania, was contacted by a Canadian fellow we’ll call ‘John’, who was interested in using the International Claim in Admiralty, Administrative Remedy (hereinafter, “AR”) with regard to a Constructive Discharge claim he had against his former employer, a large multi-national corporation, headquartered in Texas, Dresser, Inc. John’s fully executed documents were sent to Claudia for serving to the Respondents under her Notary Certificate of Service. The process took a few months to complete, during which time Dresser officials did not respond to or rebut any of the claims made in the AR. Just prior to the issuance of the Certificate of Dishonor, Claudia and John received a very abusive, intimidating and threatening letter from Dresser’s Texas attorney, Joseph Little, demanding that an Agreement be signed by both John and Claudia, stating that neither one of them would file a commercial lien against Dresser. Claudia wrote a polite letter back to Mr. Little explaining that the AR is a private process between the parties addressed and no third party can intervene. The response that came back to Claudia said words to the effect that, “You don’t understand. If you don’t sign the Agreement, I’ll be coming after YOU.” Neither of us was intimidated into signing any Agreement.

A few weeks later, Claudia received a Notice that the Secretary of State, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Office that gives Notaries their commissions, wanted to investigate the notary practices of Claudia and her daughter, Francesca, also a notary public. Their investigator found nothing wrong, but when he brought his findings back to the attorneys, they issued a Notice of a hearing scheduled for March 10th, 2008. No wrongdoing was found then either, but the prosecutor stated that they wanted to “make an example out of her”. More recently, in a last-ditch effort to try to get something on us, we were served with Orders to Show Cause why we should not be charged with practicing law without a license.

Also at the beginning of 2008, the Bureau of Consumer Protection, a division of the Pennsylvania Attorney General’s Office (A.G.), sent Claudia a Notice that they wanted to investigate her and her entire business, the Penny Pincher Press, in detail. Claudia replied asking for answers to questions regarding the nature of the request: was it civil or criminal, what penalties could arise from their investigation, under what delegation of authority was the investigation being conducted, etc. The Bureau sent back a subpoena demanding full details about her and her work, even though there was no court case going on, supposedly issued under the authority of Pennsy. Admin.

Code 71 § 307-1 et seq., which Claudia was unable to find on the internet. Not knowing of any lawful statute that would allow for a government agency to investigate anyone without a complaint being made, or specific reference to a statute being violated, Claudia sent their subpoena back within 72 hours with a Conditional Acceptance for Value for Proof of Claim (CA), which is a sworn statement that requires an answer. It was never responded to, so she sent the Bureau a Negative Averment, confirming all the statements she had made in the CA, but that affidavit was not answered either. Clearly, the A.G. was attempting an illegal search and seizure, thereby violating his Oath of Office. Interestingly, an inquiry to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in Pittsburg revealed that there is no record of A.G. Tom Corbett ever having sworn an Oath of Office. The same is true of the Secretary of State.

At last, Dresser Inc. joined the act, suing both Claudia and John, but it was not the usual Complaint and Notice to Defend. Instead, it was a Motion for Declaratory Judgment which they somehow got a docket number for and they were seeking judicial judgment declaring the private Admin. Remedy.(AR) to be legally invalid. This is curious as well as ludicrous since the AR is simply an affidavit in a particular format, which was executed in the private venue and was not Claudia’s process. No legal action was ever taken against John, the author of the AR.

Of the 3-sided attack, the A.G.’s was the worst. A Notice arrived in late February 2008, that there would be a hearing on the A.G.’s Motion for Sanctions which was brought in Dauphin County Court of Common Pleas and was based upon Claudia’s non-compliance with the subpoena previously issued. Once again, a court case had been opened with a mere Motion and no Complaint or Notice to Defend. The hearing was scheduled for March 4th. It turned out to be little more than an intimidation and threat session with the Deputy A.G. sitting silent throughout the proceeding while the judge prosecuted the case from the bench.

After Claudia’s Assistance of Counsel was dismissed by Judge Clark, she asked him, “Do you have an Oath of Office on file?” “Yes” was the answer. “And will you rule in accordance with your oath of office?” she inquired. “Yes, I will.” was the response. Not more than 10 minutes later, Judge Clark was enticing Claudia to waive her 5th Amendment protected Right to not have to incriminate herself by saying, “Why don’t you just give the A.G. what he wants and all of this will be over?” At one point, when Claudia asked what happened to due process of law, 2 Sherriff’s deputies come up behind Claudia and just stood there. Whenever she would ask something Judge Clark didn’t want to deal with, like “A subpoena is ancillary to a court case. How could a subpoena be issued when there is no on-going court case?”, he would speak over her, drowning her out. That hearing ended with Claudia

Judges’ Unaccountability For Judicial And Non-Judicial Acts Fostered Behind-Closed-Doors At Judicial Conference

The Judicial Conference of the U.S. is the highest court administration policy-making body of the Federal Judiciary. It will hold its Secretive annual meeting next September 16-17: First Chief Justice John Roberts will preside over its plenary session at the Supreme Court, (202)479-3011 and -3211.

Then the 12 representative district judges and the 14 chief circuit and national court judges will hold separate meetings at the Thurgood Marshall Federal Judiciary Building, One Columbus Circle NE, in Washington, D.C.

There the committees of the Conference meet on Monday at its secretariat, maintained by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, (202) 502-2400; www.uscourts.gov.

The Judiciary, just as Congress and the Presidency, was created by “We, the People” of a representative republic that is founded on the openness of access and transparency of activity of government to the governed.

What is more, the aspect of government entrusted to the Judiciary, namely, justice, demands that it be administered open to all, so that the people can ascertain whether it satisfies its essential requirements of equality, reasonableness, and predictability.

Those requirements are not limited to a courtroom open to everybody. The public administration of justice demands that they also be satisfied during the formulation of policy and procedural rules by the judges, who subsequently apply them in their courtrooms.

However, the judges’ input in their formulation before and at the behind-closed-door Conference is Secret.

About six months later, a sanitized report of the Conference is issued by the Administrative Office.

This is as if Congress never held in public any plenary or committee sessions; as if the President never allowed journalists to attend oval office or cabinet meetings; and as if they only sent to a press conference a spokesperson with a Scripted story of what occurred at those sessions or meetings.

Such secrecy would foster what it actually has in the Judiciary and is so cherished to judges: Unaccountability for both judicial and non-judicial acts, hence, the totality of their conduct.

Judges’ Unaccountability for judicial acts assignable as error on appeal Judicial acts consist of the rulings, orders, findings, and judgments that judges make to dispose of controversies brought by parties before them. Judges are not accountable for those acts. A party can only assign the acts as error on appeal.

But even if the appellate judges reversed all the judicial acts of a judge, no harm would come to him –or her: His pay cannot be reduced while in office and only Congress can impeach and remove him there-from.

Likewise, his promotion to a higher court or status does not depend on his peers’ assessment of his performance; only the President and the Senate can so promote a judge.

Moreover, a judge’s judicial acts are overwhelmingly more likely to stand than be reversed on appeal.

To begin with, an appeal requires an enormous amount of effort and time and can cost from tens of thousands to millions of dollars.

Then the appellate judges can dismiss the appeal or rubberstamp the act “Affirmed” in a summary order.

The latter disposes of the appeal without any statement of reasons, without precedential value, and some circuits may not even allow it to be cited.

According to the Handbook of the Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit (CA2), “Approximately 75% of all cases are decided by summary order [, which] have no precedential authority.”

Reversing a judicial act on appeal requires that appellate judges, to begin with, read the briefs, then discuss what the peer below did, conclude that it constituted reversible error, and explain what the error was so that on remand it may not be repeated.

That defeats the purpose of summary orders, which is skip-it-all expediency.

Thus, the overwhelming majority of summary orders is used to get rid of appeals brought by individuals representing themselves, i.e., pro se.

Indeed, in 2005 CA2 bragged that “We know of no other Federal Appeals Court that allows pro se litigants other than incarcerated prisoners to argue.”

Pro se litigants, almost by definition the poor, get unaccountable, unreviewable, expedient ‘justice’ from judges who indulge in any judicial act.

Judges’ Unaccountability for non-judicial acts impugned in complaints Judges’ non-judicial acts can be challenged by any person, including a party, filing a complaint under the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act of 1980 (28 U.S.C. §§351-364) with the respective chief circuit judge.

They include “conflict of interests, bribery, corruption, abuse of judicial power, bias, prejudice, incompetence, neglect, undue decisional delay, demeanor, mental or physical disability”.

In the 1997-2006 period, 7,462 complaints were filed, but the judges appointed only 7 investigative committees and disciplined only 9 of their peers. They dismissed out of hand without any investigation 99.88% of all complaints! (See links to the official statistics in the a-h notes under their graphic illustration at Judicial-Discipline-Reform.org)

This is in line with the fact that of all the thousands of federal judges that have served – just now 2,180 judicial officers are subject to the Act, in the 219 years since the creation of the Federal Judiciary in 1789, the number of those impeached and removed from the bench is 7! (id.) On average, that is 1 every 31 years, which is longer than the average length of service of judges. They can indulge in any non-judicial act too, for judges hold themselves totally Unaccountable.

A judicial misconduct complaint for reporters to test judges’ unaccountability at the Judicial Conference.

To prove it, a complaint was filed last June 9 against a WBNY bankruptcy judge for his participation in a bankruptcy fraud scheme under the cover of district and circuit judges. It has been brought to the attention of Chief Justice Roberts and each of the other Conference members.

They were requested to use the “informal means of disposing of complaints” – which they included in the Rules that they adopted for implementing the Act to persuade CA2 Chief Judge Dennis Jacobs to apply the Act and the Rules to appoint a committee to investigate the complaint. The Conference Secretariat has stated that the members do not have authority to do so. (id.)

Thus, the judges shirk their collegial responsibility for the integrity of the Judiciary and judicial process by pretending that they cannot recommend informally to a peer to appoint a committee to investigate the filed evidence of a judicially supported bankruptcy fraud scheme so that they can dismantle it.

Yet, they can and systematically do dispose of 99.88% of all complaints by means as informal as a chief judge suggesting to a complained-about judge over lobster and whiskey at a sponsor-paid judicial junket to be less obvious when engaging in the acts cited in the all but dismissed complaint, even if dealing with bribery, conflict of interest, and abuse of power.

Tax rebel Schiff sentenced to more prison

A federal judge slapped Anti-income tax proponent Irwin Schiff with another 11 months in prison after determining that the 80-year-old disrupted his trial “innumerable” times before he was finally convicted of tax-related charges. Schiff, who is already serving a 151-month sentence, appeared in federal court and continued to be combative with U.S. District Judge Kent Dawson.

Dawson reminded Schiff that the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the jury’s guilty verdict on charges of conspiring to defraud the Internal Revenue Service, tax evasion and filing false returns.

Dawson said the appeals court also reviewed the trial transcripts and agreed with the 15 contempt citations issued to Schiff, who represented himself during the 2006 trial.

Do you recall the following quote from the Bible?

“When they came to Jerusalem, he (Jesus) went into the temple and began to throw out those who were selling and those who were buying in the temple. He overturned the ‘moneychangers’ tables and the chairs of those who sold doves. He wouldn’t even let anyone carry a vessel through the temple.

Then he began to teach them: “It is written, is it not, ‘My house is to be called a house of prayer for all nations’? But you have turned it into a

To me those ‘bandits’ were the moneylenders of old who have become the Banks, Credit Card Companies and Corporations of now. And in this millennium it is time for us to tell these modern day ‘moneychangers’ to STOP - BE GONE once and for all. And how do we do that? We do it by re-establishing our individual sovereignty and using the remedy we have been given - the Redemption process.

So let us each support one another in reclaiming our birthright, our sovereignty and share the idea of Freedom and Sovereignty with your family and friends - appropriately. Help them to help themselves.

A wonderful way to do that is to remember that the folks at The American's Bulletin have Gift Certificates available for you to invest in as Birthday gifts, Anniversary gifts, and to celebrate other special occasions such as, Christmas and New Years. Gift Certificates can be used for books, materials, processes. Also available are gift subscriptions to The American's Bulletin.

I have checked and their Gift Certificates come in the following denominations $50, $100, $250 and $500. If you would like to give a Gift Certificate for greater than $500, they can create that especially for you. As an added ‘gift’, they will include a FREE copy of The Redemption Primer, which is a collection of articles, such as “FREE YOUR MIND - a peek into the “matrix” and “Have you heard of redemption and the straw-man?”, plus quotes that introduce the reader to the concept of Redemption.

My heartfelt thanks goes out to all of the wonderful staff at The American's Bulletin! And a Special Thanks to you Marianne and Mr. Kelly – keep up the good work, it is greatly appreciated!

Be sure to order early to insure your friends, family and business associates receives the Gift Certificates you give them in time for Christmas. Please send your order, ATT: Gift Certificate.

BRINGING LEVERAGE ON THE JUDGE

Some have asked about the strategy we now use to bring leverage on the judge to look for law on your side to get out of having to address things about his oath or bond he does not want known or to have to admit.

It starts with oral voir dire of the Court and then moves to subpoena of the judge and attorney general with these issues included in the next motion in written form if he does not dismiss or vacate the first time. And ends up in suit against the judge in his private capacity as being a pretender to his office as he will have twice abused his discretion as a judge to evade questions on his oath to sit and hear any case.

And of course as you bring another motion you also recuse him since he can't testify or be a defendant against you and preside on your case at the same time.

Now you have 2 judges on the spot and the attorney general.

Of course you can go straight to the real power you hold. The judge's oath is the one thing that separates you from him. It doesn't matter. He was elected to an office. He doesn't take and occupy that office until he takes the oath written in the state constitution as required by Article 6 Clause 3 of the US Constitution which says, "All ...judicial Officers,... of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution," and swears to support and uphold the constitution of your sovereign state as well and swears to perform the duties of that office the people elected him to and to do it protecting the rights of the people under those constitutions of your sovereign state and of the sovereign nation of the United States of America that are the only constitutions ratified by the people of your sovereign state and of this sovereign nation under which political and legal power residing exclusively in the people has been granted by them to your state or to the office of this judge in the constitutions ratified by The people who created his office, who elected him to it, who have paid for the Court and who pay his salary in it. and whose is the only sovereignty and authority granted under which he wields the authority and power of his office or of the state, and which power he only receives from the people and their constitution upon the swearing of the oath they have required that he will support and uphold those constitutions and thereby all the rights that are the peoples' protected under them.

Apart from this oath he carries no authority of the peoples' state or government over anybody including you.

But what is more important to you, nothing he has done to anybody since he took his office has carried the authority of the state. It is not legal, not binding and whatever damage he has caused anyone he and the state are liable for it and there is no bonding of state officials that will protect from the claims of those injured. And you merely begin to review the public records of who he has ruled against that has cost someone the most loss and begin to notify them what you have found by your own case: the judge refuses to confirm or clarify what legal entities he has taken his oath to and that there is serious question of the proper setting of the Court to have rendered the decisions he has made and let their actions become the real pressure that ultimately gets them to rule for you to get you to quit.

As we state in our motions on this; And] the oath of office Judge [name] has taken on record [appears to be different and] [is unclear] from that written in the actual constitution for Mississippi]] which is the actual oath under which he is bonded and occupies his public office, whether Judge [name] has intended by this oath recorded to uphold the Constitution of the sovereign state of Mississippi of the union of these United States united by and under the Constitution of the sovereign United States of America, and the constitution of this same United States and the sovereign government created by that constitution whose constitution it is he has sworn to uphold.

OR whether it is another entity of the same name, [spelled differently] as the constitution of the corporate State of Mississippi sub chartered under the District of Columbia incorporated as the UNITED STATES, INC. with all federal territories and possessions in 1871, which exists only in federal law whose protections imparted under the 14th Amendment to "citizens of the United States", are not a right, but a benefit and privilege "....extend to them only as Congress, in the exercise of its legislative power over territory belonging to the United States, (and over "citizens of the United States" under the 14th Amendment) has made those guaranties applicable." Hooven & Allison Co. vs. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945).]

The Judges [name] must be properly set in his elected office under his oath recorded in the public records with the [name of office] [as required by [state code] being that oath required of him by the people of this [state] [district] [county] written in Article X Section XX of the constitution of the sovereign state of Mississippi.]] that has him swearing to uphold the Constitution of the sovereign state of Mississippi and the constitution of the United States and the sovereign government created by that constitution, before he legally occupies his office and has the authority and power of the state to issue this judgment here opposed [for action against my property.]

A declaration on the record of the Hon. [name of judge] to resolve this issue in doubt will of necessity be required and therefore hearing is being sought for this motion's consideration unless the Court, of its own volition, would chose to make affidavit, to be a part of this case record, acknowledging these differentiations of the same name "United States", cited in law herein, declaring with specificity the Court has intended by its oath recorded to uphold the Constitution of the sovereign state of Mississippi of the union of these United States united by and under the Constitution of the sovereign United States of America, and to uphold the Constitution of this same United States and the sovereign government created by that constitution whose constitution it is he has sworn to uphold, or to some other legal entities of the same names, being these identified in this motion or yet some other.

If it is not these constitutions he has sworn to uphold, and this oath he has taken, then according to [92:2 he cannot exercise his office or position or perform any act therein.] And under title 25-5-5. ...he .has "Knowingly or willfully failed, neglected, or refused to perform this duty required of such officer by law," and is subject to removal from office, and is not properly sitting under his oath of office required by law to conduct its business or to hear any case or issue any judgments or legal instruments bearing the authority of that office and of the state, [including the [conducting of a foreclosure sale] [the enforcement of legal action] [on/against] property located at [address] set for [date]. And he has been without the Constitutionally acquired authority of the state to exercise the powers of his office he has not properly occupied since being last sworn in, and has been without jurisdiction and authority as a properly set Court to exercise judgment carrying the authority and power of the state in this cause in the issuing of any order would be void, without authority and effect and pending the determination of these factual matters, Defendant moves this case be dismissed from this Court for its lack of authority and jurisdiction to hear it and that it be so ordered.

Defendant is fully aware of the gravity of such determinations of fact and the consequences of it on all cases over which the Court has exercised authority in the name of the State since taking office and does not bring this motion lightly.

I was not sure if someone would just simply confirm the obvious, that they had sworn to uphold the sovereign state of Mississippi's constitution and I would be standing there like a fool. I can confirm no judge I have been in front of has yet declared himself nor in any of the cases I am working with people on.

A recent experience of a week ago Monday confirms again we are on to something.

I had a hearing i n one of my cases. For reasons I won't take the time to go into here I was only going after the other lawyer's right to practice law. When I got to the lawyers oath, I said,

Then your honor according to 73-3-35 the oath he was to take states: "that he will use no falsehoodand that he will support the Constitution of the State of Mississippi."

The oath actually taken raises questions from that written in the law which is the oath under which he occupies this position. We must ask opposing counsel Has he intended by his oath recorded to uphold the Constitution of the sovereign state of Mississippi of the nation that is the sovereign United States of America, or is it the constitution of the corporate State of Mississippi sub-chartered under the District of Columbia incorporated as the UNITED STATES, INC. with all federal territories and possessions in 1871?

As is my usual practice in oral argument to get the judge to stay awake, when I have challenged the other lawyers' case on some point I offer to yield some of my time in making my motion for him to respond to my assertions right there on the spot or show his evidence to dispute me or whatever. Nothing in the rules makes him say anything but when he has no rebuttal to the obvious even to deny the truth of what I have said, it only serves to show in a dramatic way his case against me is all sham where everyone including the judge can see it.

But in this instance even as he was about to speak the judge stopped him and would not let him reply saying we weren't going to go there and he was not going to have a precedent set on this in this case.

Yes, when you raise it in the beginning, they will shut you off. But eventually you will be able to get into a position legally where they must answer or not show up.

I believe neither judge nor lawyer can declare either way. To tell the truth would admit they are frauds, to lie and affirm the constitutions of the sovereign state and nation ends their tyranny because now they have acknowledged we have rights and they must give them to us or face the consequences and they have damaged all those in the past who they denied those rights to.

It is here your issue will be resolved.

We must be harmless as doves with the truth and law on our side, and still be wise as serpents to strike at their point of weakness until they will give us the law we are entitled.

They are all cutthroats and thieves and we must deal with them accordingly expecting nothing but what we make them give us. If any questions on any of this I will try to answer; I am at 662-489-6554, Dr. Weatherly

On another very important subject let me add something. Most people don't understand this, but God was in Christ paying for all our sins on the cross and its over and done and finished and He's not angry with us about anything any more. The Bible says, He is for us, not against us. He died in our place to purchase us for Himself and if you'll give in to Him, there's nothing He won't be able to do in your life. I know, I have been with Him for 26 years. And when we finally leave this world, we'll live with Him forever, if we belong to Him. If you need to think about that or you have someone in mind that does, I'll be glad to talk with them. My number again was 662-489-6554. I just wanted you to know that.

FOUR YEAR PRISON SENTENCE AFFIRMED FOR IRS AGENT - TAX DEFIER

Former IRS Employee Convicted of Tax Crimes

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit affirmed a four year prison sentence for tax defier crimes committed by Sherry Peel Jackson, a former Internal Revenue Service (IRS) employee and tax preparer, the Justice Department announced today.

In October 2007, a jury found Jackson of Stone Mountain, Ga., guilty on four counts of failure to file income tax returns. Jackson was sentenced, on Feb. 14, 2008, by U.S. District Judge Orinda D. Evans to four consecutive prison terms of 12 months each.

According to the charging document and evidence at trial, beginning in 2000, Jackson willfully and intentionally did not file her own individual tax returns. At that time, she also operated a tax preparation business and continued to prepare, submit and file individual tax returns for her customers. For the next three years, Jackson intentionally did not file her tax returns, despite an income of more than $400,000 in that time period. According to testimony at trial, Jackson said she did not file the returns because she did not know what the term "individual" meant in tax laws. The evidence at trial showed that Jackson in fact knew her legal duty to file with the IRS and intentionally chose to disregard the law. Jackson raised several common tax defier arguments in her appeal, such as challenges to the jurisdiction of the court and a claim that the IRS Form 1040 did not comply with the Paperwork Reduction Act. All of Jackson's arguments on appeal were rejected.

In May 2008, a federal court in Florida found Jackson to have been advancing frivolous tax arguments at a Pinnacle Quest International (PQI) sales conference and in PQI promotional materials. The court barred PQI and its principals from publicizing tax fraud schemes.

Sherry Peel Jackson
Now Ex- IRS Agent

"This clear affirmation of such a strong sentence should be a sign to tax defiers across the country that frivolous arguments and bogus schemes do not work and can land them in prison for years," said Nathan J. Hochman, Assistant Attorney General of the Justice Department's Tax Division. "Under the National Tax Defier Initiative, the Tax Division continues to vigorously enforce federal tax laws against tax defier conduct throughout the nation."

Editor comment;

Grasshopper, here we go again. Another 'protester' who protested the tax and advanced 'tax defier' arguments, instead of understanding that there is no real money and therefore the tax can only be discharged 'dollar for dollar' and not paid at law! As the Creditor, she could have accepted the tax for value and discharged it and done the 1040 and the 1099OID on the credit. The outcome could have been much different. U.S. GOLD

I am a former investment banker and CRCP (Certified Regulatory and Compliance Professional) with over 18 years of financial industry experience. I have studied securities at Wharton and International Economics at Westminster College in London. I have always been aware of several inappropriate and underhanded banking and political practices, but since I was part of the problem, I never cared about the solution. Recently, my company and my family were politically and financially assaulted by government agencies and I fell prey to the Federal System of the crooked monopoly of the foul 3 letter words; FBI, SEC, IRS, DEA, etc.

Today, I was at lunch with my wife and I held up a $twenty bill and asked the waitress what was backing this currency. She replied, "The United State's Gold." I asked another gentleman if he knew who owned the FDIC, and he said, "The Federal Government." I asked another couple in the restaurant, "how much stock does the Federal Government own of the Federal Reserve Bank," and they said, "Duh, all of it!" I had a gentlemen contact my website today and tell me that if he is a Sovereign, he was told that he doesn't need to be a Secured Party Creditor to discharge debt. All of these people are wrong and in the dark, like most of the (c)itizens in America.

After reading your book, The Redemption Manual, (four times) my eyes and my ears were opened. My personalized license plate now reads: US GOLD. I did that so that when people comment on my plate and ask me what that stands for, I tell them that, "No, I am not an Olympic swimmer, I am a Secured Party Creditor and I help people get out of the Matrix and get their piece of the US GOLD. I explain to people that the United States and its co-business partners are debtors to you and that once you take control over your Debtor Person, your liens supersede the liens of the United State's Creditors. I explain to them that you can use this knowledge to discharge debt and protect your personal property.

Having been a securities professional (attorney) for so many years I have taken your process of Conditional Acceptance for Value and I have added some presentment challenges of my own. I argue, in addition to your brilliant points, that the creditor in most cases has violated simple contract law. I was simply taught in law school that a valid contract is: offer and acceptance, for valuable consideration. The consideration for the loan or debt must not only be valuable, but it must be considerable. In most banking practices, the creditor used the Debtor's signature to manufacture money on their books to lend you your own credit. In addition, most of these private banks borrow up to ten times more than the value of your note and they use the extra credit to make even more interest on the unsuspecting public. Where is your chunk of the US GOLD? I have used this argument as well as several others to discharge debt and significantly reduce mortgage balances. We have used the Coinage Act argument to settle presentments for property taxes and fines by State agencies. I tell my clients, "When you are pulled over by an officer of the law, don't be a zealot and tell him you are a Sovereign and you don't need a license, just thank him for your ticket and send in the bill with your acceptance of the obligation for value and go about your business." I told a traffic officer who pulled me over the other day, "Thank you sir, may I have another!"

I can tell you that I found a good bit of information in the Redemption Manual. I set up a firm at www.usredemption.org to help others gain knowledge about HJR - 192 and the Federal Government Bankruptcy. I have helped a lot of people become a Secured Party Creditor for a nominal fee and I try to provide as much free information as possible on the process. Becoming a Secured Party Creditor is the only way that I can see that you can discharge debt without committing fraud. Since you have technically and legally established yourself as a private banker with a UCC-1 Financing Statement, you can legally issue a promissory note or debt instrument to settle your financial obligations. I just wanted you to know that my wife and I have paid off over $80,000 in credit card debt and utility bills, we have settled with our mortgage company for a savings of over $113,000 and have discharged thousands of dollars of debt for our friends who have become clients and vice versus.

I don't consider the Secured Party Creditor/Sovereignty a movement; I consider it an Industry. I just wanted to thank you for helping me get my piece of the US GOLD. As always I remain...

ADL SAYS CHRISTIANITY IS HATE

By Harmony Grant

Say I have an operable brain tumor. You’re a doctor and know it but you don’t tell me. I die. You should be prosecuted for manslaughter but, in the religious version of this case, the Anti-Defamation League thinks you should get applause.

Recently a group of prominent Christians called for more evangelism especially to Jews. They’re contrite about Jewish suffering throughout history and say Christians must use “sensitivity and humility” but “still challenge them to consider the message of the Messiah.”

For Christians, this is Truth 101: we all need Jesus and we are terminally sick without Him, headed for certain spiritual death. We are morally obligated to share the gospel with unbelievers, just as a doctor would be morally obligated to tell me I have a brain tumor. A couple billion Christians, including me, share this obligation.

The Jewish Anti-Defamation League, creator of hate crime laws, denounced the statement from World Evangelical Alliance. “This Evangelical document is not an offer of love, but a prescription for hate,” says ADL head Abe Foxman. “As long as the WEA teaches that Judaism is incomplete or misguided, anti-Semitism will continue.” His statement accuses WEA of creating “immense pain and anger.”

So basically, Christianity is hate. The Bible’s message that all humans are “incomplete and misguided”—worse, damned!—without saving faith in Christ, is hate.

This frightens anyone who’s aware of “anti-hate” laws’ growing momentum. Every week, new incidents are described as “hate crimes” and prosecuted more zealously than the same crimes where hate is not suspected as the motivation. The mythology of “hate crimes” as distinct, definable, and more frightening crime is now accepted as fact by most Americans. Once you succeed in the court of public opinion, it doesn’t take long to succeed in the law books.

ADL—the Jewish supremacist organization that considers Christianity to be hate—wields great political clout. Today 45 states have ADL-inspired hate crime laws. Barack Obama recently challenged Sen. McCain to back a ADL’s federal hate bill. Some observers believe our current president’s opposition is the only reason we don’t have a federal hate law right now. A pro-hate bill president would almost guarantee its passage.

But hate law advocates hardly need a federal hate law! The FBI already swoops in on various “hate crimes” across the nation. “Anti-hate” speech codes at universities and colleges stifle free speech. The ADL is heavily involved in indoctrinating teachers, police, and local communities with their sick definitions of “hate” (See, ADL’s Empire of Synagogue and State).

Unless wider opposition emerges, ADL’s ultimate dream may come true -- a national law like Israel’s where Christian evangelism of Jews is a federal offense.

If that happens, then at last, not with a bang but a whimper from tens of millions of evangelicals who failed to protest, it will become illegal to be a true Christian.

Harmony Grant writes and edits for National Prayer Network, a Christian/conservative watchdog group.

Editor comment; why is it that the ADL can violate the Hate Laws by hating the Christians? It is Public law 97-280 wherein Congress declared the Bible “The Word of God”! Therefore, does the ADL consider the Federal Government and Congress to be purveyors of hate? Are they deemed a ‘hate-based organization’? Hopefully the ADL will move forward to attack the Federal Government and Congress for its support and promotion of ‘Hate Speech’ by its ‘joint resolutions’ in regards to the Bible, as the ADL hates such things and just justify its existence based on HATE, not forgiveness. But what was that that Jesus said, something about; “you are of your father the devil”?

reminded them in 2008 that Jesus was known as The Prince of Peace).

Men were tarred and feathered for not spending enough of their income on “Liberty bonds” that helped fund the war; German language Bibles were burned; and the producers of a movie about the American Revolution that portrayed America’s “ally” Great Britain in an unflattering light were sentenced to ten years in prison.

By the 1950s, American presidents clearly thought of themselves as dictators who were not constrained one iota by the Constitution.

Consequently, Harry Truman felt justified in having the government seize and operate the steel mills so that he could better prosecute the undeclared war in Korea.

Truman insisted that he had absolute, dictatorial power to “do whatever is for the best of the country.”

Constitution schmonstitution. The Supreme Court eventually ruled against this particular act of theft, but it had little effect in deterring future dictatorial behavior.

Today, American presidents think of themselves not just as unrestrained dictators but as emperors of the world.

Woods and Gutzman provide a scholarly analysis of why Brown vs. Board of Education was unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court “set itself above the Constitution” for what the majority believed was a good cause.

Constitution schmonstitution. There is no constitutional authority for the myriad pork-barrel spending projects that Congress funds year in and year out with tax dollars, but so what?

Woods and Gutzman describe the evolution of this particular power grab, from the time when the “father of the Constitution,” James Madison, vetoed an “internal improvements” bill as unconstitutional to today’s anything-goes mentality in Washington, D.C.

Then there is the theft of privately-held gold by FDR.

The Supreme Court never even bothered to comment on this grossly unconstitutional act of thievery.

Nor is there any constitutional basis for the government’s ban on prayer in public schools or military conscription.

Not to mention the dictatorial implications of presidential “executive orders.”

Teddy Roosevelt receives special mention with regard to this latter authoritarian tool.

He issued 1,006 executive orders compared to 51 and 71 for his two predecessors, write Woods and Gutzman.

The “Bush Revolution,” discussed in chapter 12, proves that modern American presidents and their advisors have nothing but absolute contempt for the Constitution.

Upon reading Who Killed the Constitution? The Jeffersonian wing of the founding fathers, were they alive today, would be reaching for their swords, preparing for another revolution.

The Hamiltonians, on the other hand, would be popping champagne corks, high fiving each other, and smiling very broadly.

Calhoun would be deeply saddened that his dire predictions about the fate of an American Republic that is stripped of its Jeffersonian, states’ rights moorings have all come true in spades.

3) INFLATION IS CAUSED BY GOVERNMENTS—IT IS TAXATION IN STEALTH.

The FED prints Federal Reserve Notes [FRNs]. The only ‘reserve’ is the electricity to run their printing presses, and an adequate supply of blank paper and ink. While the electricity is on, there is no practical limit to the supply of paper ‘money’ that can be printed. Since 1971, FRNs (AKA dollars), are pure fiat currency fabricated by the government. FRNs are not real money. They are government counterfeit certificates. They are certified by the authority of a gun wielded by the police of a nation.

The FED’s printing presses are the floodgates of paper ‘money’ that inundate the American economy with crisp new dollars of constantly diminishing value.

Unbacked paper dollars are a Ponzi scheme in and of themselves. More and more need to be printed to support the ever-increasing distortions in the political economy. Currency that is not a consistent store of value destroys the efficient allocation of resources. Merely printing fiat paper and calling it ‘money’ is destructive of that efficient allocation. Consequently, in such a monetary system, every aspect of human commerce is not reliably quantifiable and is therefore corrupted. Inevitably, the system will crumble as it succumbs to the poisons of its own toxic excesses.

Why and where does all this phony ‘money’ go? It feeds the insatiable appetite of Congress’ pork projects and the unchecked expenditures of the executive branch that counterfeit money sponsors. It slides into the pockets of politicians in the form of campaign contributions; it is skimmed by investment bankers from the obscene profits of financial derivatives.

NOTE: For almost 100 years, from 1835 to 1933 (ending with FDR’s gold confiscation) prices remained virtually stable under the gold standard.

4) EXCESSIVE SPENDING BY POLITICIANS to curry favor with the electorate. Politicians promise the moon to get elected. By selfishly placing their own political interests above the welfare of their country, these costly and fatuous promises continually increase the national debt. Over a prolonged period of time deficit spending enormously reduces the value of the dollar. The dollar in 2008 is worth approximately 2.35% of what it was worth in 1933. This is the percentage ratio of gold at $20 per ounce and at $850. The true ratio is undoubtedly much greater due to the government’s manipulation of the price of gold, and that gold is no longer used as a medium of exchange, i.e., as backing for paper money. Otherwise, a more realistic figure would be 0.33% with gold priced at $6,000 per ounce in today’s moribund dollars.

Foreign nations, aware of the monetary fraud perpetrated by the U.S. government, began demanding gold in exchange for the bags of depreciating paper dollars filling their vaults. They did not want to be victimized by the inflation tax. As a consequence, the supply of gold at Fort Knox was slowly evaporating like summer rain on a hot roof.

In 1971 with the French in particular demanding gold for paper dollars, Richard Nixon (R) had little choice in the matter since American gold ‘reserves’ were running a bit thin. He dug in his heels and “just said no” to French President Charles de Gaulle who was demanding “gold for dollars.”

At this point, paper currencies of various countries simply began to be traded for paper currencies of other countries with no good way to keep government spending in check. While printing money may be an effective way to tax people in stealth, there is no free lunch forever; imbalances began to appear, and pressures began to build. If, to illustrate, one nation begins to counterfeit currency more rapidly than another, the more monetarily conservative countries will reject that currency. Then hyperinflation will ordinarily follow in the profligate country.

Thus continual deficit spending by politicians inevitably results in the destruction of their country’s fiat currency and ultimately leads to government insolvency, i.e., total bankruptcy and the death of that currency.

5) THE MAINLINE MEDIA DOES NOT ADVISE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE of our unsound financial situation, i.e., our government’s reckless spending and the potential consequences thereto. The media could, but does not, print the names of those in Congress who attach their pet pork projects to otherwise important bills. Thus, with printing press ‘money,’ in contrast to real money (gold, or gold backed), there are few constraints to deficit spending, and Congress’ inflation tax. Without media exposure and attendant accountability, the spending practices of the rule-makers, which is causing the destruction of the dollar, continues unabated.

6) THE COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT ACT

In 1977, President Carter, in company with Congressional Democrats, passed a bill with noble intentions: the Community Reinvestment Act. Over strong industry objections, it mandated that all banks and savings institutions make loans to lower-income individuals in the broad outlying areas in which they had branches.

In 1995, President Clinton imposed even stronger regulations and performance tests that coerced banks to substantially increase loans to low-income, poverty-area borrowers, or face fines or possible restrictions on expansion. These revisions included securitization of these sub prime mortgages by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac which collapsed fourteen years later resulting in a mandated 75 billion dollar bailout by taxpayers.

By 1997, pioneered by Bear Stearns, good loans were bundled with poor ones and sold as prime packages to institutions here and abroad. That shifted risk from the loan originators, freeing banks to begin pyramiding and making more of these highly profitable sub prime products.

Under two, presumably well-intentioned presidents, big-government plans and mandates played a significant role in the current sub prime mortgage crisis and its catastrophic consequences for the U.S. and international economies.

7) REPEAL OF THE 1933 GLASS-STEAGALL ACT. In 1929 the stock market bubble burst ushering in the Great Depression. Then, as today, enormous amount of ‘money’ was created, which in turn powered the stock market feeding frenzy just as blood in the water draws sharks. Learning from the debacle, and hoping to prevent this devastation from ever revisiting our country, Congress created the Glass-Steagall Act to separate less regulated investment banks, from more tightly supervised commercial banks which are required to have a higher percentage of ‘reserve’ currency in order to meet unexpected setbacks.

Senator Phil Gramm (R), and Congressman James Leach (R) introduced the bill to repeal the Glass-Steagall Act. On Nov. 12, 1999 President Bill Clinton (D) signed this bill into law. This permitted banks to agglomerate into monopolist new super-banks with less regulation. Reckless lending inspired by greed proceeded forthright.

8) ALAN GREENSPAN KEPT THE FED’S RATE OF INTEREST ARTIFICIALLY LOW,

well below the rate of inflation, for too long. He probably was afraid to end the house-flipping party on his watch by raising interest rates to protect the dollar believing the American people, who for the most part do not understand economics, would blame his successor, or the President, for the problem he created. This encouraged people to spend rather than save as their money in ‘savings’ accounts was being consumed far more rapidly by the government’s corrupt practice of deficit spending (inflation) than moldy wood is consumed by termites. There are reputedly 200 PhDs in economics working at the FED. Greenspan had to know what was going to happen when the interest rates were necessarily raised to protect the dollar from decimation. Greenspan acted in an absolutely irresponsible, deplorable, and extraordinarily selfish manner.

9) BANKER’S GREED.

Standard & Poor, Moody’s and Fitch were being paid by the banker’s to rate the mortgages that they were selling. These mortgages were ‘bundled’ in groups of differing qualities, i.e., from ostensibly the very safe (AAA) to don’t ask don’t tell. The rating agencies bestowed the highest rating (AAA) on all of these bundled mortgages. This was criminal fraud and the FBI should pursue this. The banks, with the bogus high ratings on their investment instruments, were then able to sell these packaged mortgages for a premium, both domestically and internationally, to buyers who trusted them and the rating agencies. The bankers, of course, charged a fee for fleecing the trusting purchasers of these defective instruments. It’s a twist on old fashioned bank robbery; in this instance it was an inside job.

10) LACK OF SUPERVISION BY CONGRESS AND THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

of banker’s lending and investing practices. Oversight of investment banking operations was virtually non-existent. Some of this lack of oversight was undoubtedly due to ignorance of basic economics by those in government, or lack of time. But one does wonder what part ignorance played, and what, if any part, was engineered by conspirators with vested interests. Part of the lack of oversight apparently was not ascribable to innocent neglect, but the avarice inspired by ‘campaign contributions,’ and the reciprocity thereto. See: <http://www.youtube.com/user/TheMouthPeace>

Be that as it may, because lending standards were ignored in conjunction with the rate of interest being held unrealistically low, the Ponzi-scheme of ‘flipping’ houses dramatically accelerated. The situation that was developing was patently obvious, and could not go on for ever. But before it popped, the largest financial bubble the world has ever seen was created. The collapsing housing bubble not only is devastating the value of the paper dollar, it is also destabilizing commerce, domestically as well as inter-

Author Irwin Schiff

Anti-Tax Author Banned From Selling Advice

By KEN RITTER, AP

LAS VEGAS – A federal judge has permanently barred convicted tax rebel and author Irwin Schiff and a co-defendant from preparing tax returns and marketing products advising people that no law requires Americans to pay federal income taxes.

Federal officials said the permanent injunction by Senior U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd George in Las Vegas ensures that Schiff and his former business partner, Cynthia Neun, “cannot promote tax fraud schemes from within prison or when they are released.”

“The Internal Revenue Service and Justice Department have strong civil and criminal enforcement tools available to stop tax defiers who promote fraudulent schemes,” Justice Department lawyer Nathan Hochman said in a statement following George’s Oct. 14 order. The filing made permanent a restraining order and preliminary injunction first imposed in 2003.

Schiff, 80, and Neun, 55, are serving federal prison sentences after a jury in Las Vegas found them guilty in October 2005 of conspiracy, tax evasion and tax fraud.

Schiff was sentenced to 12 years and seven months by U.S. District Judge Kent Dawson, who branded Schiff and his Las Vegas company, Freedom Books, “a flimflam operation” that encouraged others to engage in a fraudulent tax evasion scheme.

Dawson last month added another 11 months to Schiff’s prison term for 15 contempt citations Schiff received while serving as his own lawyer during trial. Schiff has also been ordered to pay more than $4.2 million in restitution.

Michael Nash, a lawyer who represented Schiff at sentencing, said Wednesday that Schiff is no longer his client. Attorney Michael Cristalli, who represented Neun, said he was not involved in the government’s move to seek a permanent injunction and could not comment.

Neun is due to be released in 2010 after a five year and eight month sentence.

Schiff wrote several books, including “The Federal Mafia: How the Government Illegally Imposes and Unlawfully Collects Income Taxes,” which the government banned from circulation as fraudulent commercial speech.

over Corporations and Government

Yes, you are tangled up in a web of laws, statutes, codes, regulations and rules. But so is everybody else! Your opponent (corporate or governmental) is subject to even MORE of these pesky things than you are. They can roll over you ONLY if you don't know how to make them stumble.

And their attorneys don't know how to litigate "outside the box."

We use these facts so YOU WIN!

Historical Lessons in Terms and Events

By Sharon Lee Shields

Corporate CEO Candidates vs. Lawful Public Officers

By, Sharon Lee; Shields
—eagleinflight

"Right now, Americans' are dealing with the accumulation of lunacy from every government for the past two hundred years; and, the current government is praying that Americans' won't wake-up in time before blindly bailing them out of their own self-made destruction. Now broke, resulting from over-spending, drunkenness of power and underhanded private deals, lustful in greed and a historic lack of personal and professional accountability over the fate of America and Americans; adding to the political dirt being exposed in the past six months and still being unearthed where it's apparent that the White House is more representative of and can safely be renamed the Whore House." — Sharon Lee; Shields

The American's Bulletin printed the first "Sarah Palin Saga" back in its Jan/Feb 2007 Issue!

Why should "Americans" continue bailing out an illegitimate government that's just another one of the good ole boys private corporations; a Delaware Corporation known as the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, INC.?

As the political government's so-called 2008 Campaign (dog and phony shows) nears an end Americans' are still in the dark as to the new ideas or promises that would recover our economy, bring our troops home and being recovery in America. Evident during the campaigns was millions of disheartened and fed-up Americans full of fear over the current economic state, the illusions of and involvements in so-called wars all over the world, and now most importantly questioning governments reliability.

The candidates represented the same old good ole boys systems, hanging onto the same old politics that are no longer trusted, believed or working. Americans' putting blind faith in a proven 'unreliable, dishonest and unaccountable government' is no longer possible. This country's been plundered further and further into government debt. Government bailouts such as AIG were nothing more than government bailing out one of government's own businesses.

The alleged bailouts are nothing more than government bailing out government's special interest groups (government); perhaps owned or at least invested in by the same good ole boys that are bailing them out.

The good ole boys government is composed of supporting special interest groups such as moving big businesses out of this country to serve other countries needs and to line their own private interest pockets, leaving poverty and despair as a way of life for many Americans; such as in Michigan. Detroit used to be referred to as "The motor capital of America" with the automobile industry booming all over Michigan. When big businesses moved the industry out of North America, Detroit became just another poor town ghetto.

With the special interests automobile industry move, American's pay five to ten times the cost of a like automobile built at home. So, who is reaping those profits? American should demand a lions share of the profits and kickbacks from all industry moved out that injured America's economy, including merchandise, and oil that's coming back into this country in the way of trillions in profits for government.

Government as we have experienced it for the past two hundred years is coming to a screeching halt, rapidly! Americans loss of faith and control over the private government is the second primary crux of the good ole boys threatening us with another crash. The "China" dilemma is number one problem

It's now clear to me what the good ole boys have up their sleeves. Are they turning the American people, along with industry, over to China as repayment for their debts? Right now China on paper could own most of this country and us!

The systematic crash of the 1920's was systematically planned and implemented to give rise to the new privately own monetary system known as the corporation of the Federal Reserve System, another Delaware corporation of the current private government systems.

However, to crash the system now would financially ruin those whom created this mess, too. Therefore, the good ole boys are stuck because old politic strategies' on Americans won't work this time. American's have suffered enough and been strapped into survival mode for far too many years as they sat by watching the rich get richer and the "used to be middle class:" join the ranks of the poor and got poorer, in a country that used to represent wealth in natural resources and honest, loyal Americans.

Governments' record of accomplishment for over the past two hundred years and current tell-all campaigns reveal that all branches of this good-ole boy government is deeply involved and invested as business as usual, directly or indirectly, in corruption, fraud, extortion, prostitution, infidelity, drugs, terrorism, tyranny, murder, treason and systematic genocide of Americans and the sacred treaties our Forefathers secured in a lost lawful government.

Government has negatively affected Americans both at home and abroad, sacrificing our country, and us as casualties of its political war games from the time Lincoln signed the first executive order, with politics nothing more than a power struggle over "who gets what by the rich."

The candidate parties proclaiming to be the best candidate parties to "fix" the current economic conditions and withdraw from the alleged wars are in fact the same candidate parties who created them!

John McCain had the audacity to proclaim if he's elected president he's finished with the good ole boys and their politics! That statement is a personal condescending insult to every American and me because McCain speaks as if he's dealing with a bunch of brainless idiots. It appears that McCain is giving Americans' another chance to enact a long past review of "our" failings to hold the so-called representatives accountable for our best interests, safety, laws, treaties and preservation.

McCain's statement about severing himself from the good ole boy system is enough to discredit, distrust, and review government under a magnifying glass. John McCain is the good ole boys government, for at least three generations of McCain's, where it's affirmed each McCain held a primary position in the good ole boys government system.

Senator John McCain palled up with Governor Sarah Palin was the missing piece of the political puzzles, with the good ole boys out of the shadows, openly united. I could almost see Frank Murkowski, Ted Stevens and John McCain in the ethers holding Palin up to Americans as our woman of redemption! Trust that loyalty, honesty and America's best interest have not place in their politics!

Alaska is rich in billions in oil and untapped natural gas monies; but only five percent of those funds reach services for Alaskans. The natural resources of Alaska don't stay in Alaska; but instead are heavily dipped into and distributed by and for the politicians (good ole boys) supporting their own special interests such as AIG and the federal banking systems, and thousands of special interest groups all over the world.

To get away with fleecing Americans' the politicians spread propaganda about wars and financial crashes to siphon billions out of this country into foreign special interests groups and countries.

Those foreign countries have in excess in war funds of billions of American dollars; but the good ole boys still leave America and Americans in political plunder. , when in fact it has been estimated that "if" the surpluses were returned each man, woman and child could receive at the least 400K and the good ole boys would still pocket billions in spoils.

When government spending was threatened of exposure in Alaska, U.S. Senator Frank Murkowski was needed back in Alaska to quell any protests or publicity over a possible new public audit of how the other ninety-five percent of oil funds were being distributed.

So, Murkowski went back to Alaska to run for Governor. The Republican Party heatedly campaigned to keep him in Washington, D.C. because they felt his services were better served in D.C. Then to Alaska Republican's surprise, Murkowski allegedly "won" the governorship, hands-down. Hum. Immediately Murkowski appointed his daughter (Lisa) to hold his place in Washington as U.S. Senator, keeping the family in power and in his control, of course.

U.S. Senator Ted Stevens'

(Murkowski's cousin) is being indicted on criminal charges; and is running for another Alaska office! And to add further shame to any integrity that the good ole boys might think they have Steven's son awarded a $750,000.00 salary to run a non-profit!

In truth the blatant audacity and personal insult of Alaska's government and the current campaigners is mirror repetition of government as a whole (hole) in America, and the politics and politicians that represent government are political toilets full of waste and desperately in need of flushing and a thorough cleaning!

Palin after being mothballed in Alaska's political closet was pulled out by the good ole boys (Murkowski and Stevens) to run for Governor after Murkowski's term was up; and, of course won, according to computer ballots.

Alaskans' thought they'd rid themselves of Palin after her stunts as Mayor of Wasilla that cost the city (people) millions, believing that Palin was finished in all capacities of representing the people, where Palin should've been prosecuted and put in prison. Now, Palin is running for Vice Presidency of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA! Think about what I am telling you, people! This is a warning about the pathetic and critical state of political affairs in this country if Palin and McCain are the best the Republicans have!

The Bush family ties to treason go back to Hitler's regime during the German War; where a newly created Delaware Corporation was created to impose taxes upon Americans to support Hitler's genocide. That corporation is the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

The McCain family ties to treason go back to the murders on the USS Liberty, as one specific incident. The powers-that-be and military commanders believed the crew was killed and the ship resting at the bottom of the ocean. Instead, most of the crew was entombed alive below deck, slowly suffocating while a handful of the crew on deck frantically kept it afloat. The handful of crew expected explanation regarding the surprise attack; and a hero's welcome; instead, the remaining crew was left out at sea until boarded and interrogated by Admiral Kidd until each remaining crewmember was clear about their duty of silence, ordered by Admiral McCain.

During Alaska's Murkowski, Stevens and now Palin regime

Russian immigrants were/are flooding into Alaska, provided brand new homes, new automobiles, trucks, and a check for $50,000.00 to start a business in Alaska, given priority status for higher paying government jobs, as well. Those same Russian families brought their parents and grandparents with them, where each began collecting full social security retirement benefits upon arrival. In addition, their medical treatment and medications are fully paid for all ages; and still today, most medical clinic waiting rooms are full of Russian Immigrants.

The distribution of Alaska's Permanent Fund Dividend, oil monies, could be an entire article of extortion and corruption!

I know of no Alaskan of any culture that those same benefits, same funds, and same government jobs were/are available, anytime. However, I have seen many Alaskans suffering from depression, grief and despair because they couldn't afford proper medical treatment and out of work, living on the streets.

I'm not opposed to helping other nations and countries; but common sense is a no-brainer: If we as a once great country cannot afford to feed, house and put all Americans to work, then government has NO BUSINESS BEING IN THE IMMIGRATION, WAR AND BAILOUT BUSINESS OF ITS FAILING BAD BUSINESS DEALS OR OTHER COUNTRIES! Even a child has the common sense (brains) to feed his own hungry brother or sister before feeding a hungry neighbor.

The campaigns got wild and furry toward its ends with one thing evident: government is in serious trouble and Americans are making a distinct separation from them and demanding accountability. What government is concealing is that THEY want permission through a maze of adhesion contracts to pledge us (Americans) as collateral to other countries to clean up THEIR dirty deals and failing corporations.

There has been little publicity about many American legitimate businesses failing or forced to close their doors, lying off millions of Americans and, not word about bailing them out. Indeed, the good ole boy government is rapidly catching up with them; and, each could easily wear the toothpaste mustache (Hitler's mustache, a sign of evil) as their trademark.

Americans' are not in the dark this time regarding the threat of a financial crash blamed on some unseen force. Instead, Americans are demanding government accountability and explanation of the cause of the threat. Government hasn't been held accountable mostly because the potential whistleblowers were silenced and died of old ages, by now; died of some very suspicious health circumstances; died in mysterious plane crashes, or threatened into submission and silence, today.

The banking businesses alleged scare has nothing to do with

...Information, Concepts and Things: Discovered For Your Understanding

Commercial Accomplishments in a Criminal Case

By Scott Vitale,
Sovran Creditor

I wish to convey this information to folks because I think its important information. It really sends out a very strong message, at least to me. The original issue developed over a HomeOwner's Association dispute (HOA). A couple of years ago I went through a commercial process Don Mancuso taught. It was UCC compliant and done in commerce through the straw-man. It basically rendered commercial injuries from dishonoring of the fictions' offers to contract. When the fictions come at you with an offer to contract, you can renegotiate their offer. In commerce, he who makes the offer is in the debtor's position. As the accepting party, the creditor gets to renegotiate the contract on them. When they don't perform to their own redrafted contract, they cause a commercial injury per the terms and conditions of the newly re-drafted contract. I ran off thirty or so debt-collectors and attorney debt-collectors with this process.

I used this process the first time on the HOA in early 2005 and later, on their attorneys sometime the middle of 2006. I dinged the HOA for two hundred thousand dollars total and one hundred twenty thousand for their attorneys. I recorded the largest of those invoices with attached affidavits into public records. I had intended to take them out as a liens rendered by judgment nihil dicit. I could have done that but chose not to at the time, so at this point they're not liens.

I have been dealing with Wachovia over a foreclosure situation and the HOA was trying to force me to do certain things. I just simply said, "Where's the contract?" They couldn't produce it, so they took it into their court system to get a declaratory judgment. The judge tried to rush to judgment and ram it down my throat when he had no jurisdiction and knew it. I let him know that he didn't have it. They still could not produce the contract and he rendered a judgment, albeit a void judgment. He issued judgment that said the homeowner had to do this and had to do that within thirty days. I didn't do anything or should I say, the straw-man homeowner didn't do anything at all. The judge wouldn't issue a contempt of court because he knew it was a void judgment from the start and so they were still powerless against enforcing the "judgment" and forcing the homeowner into a non-existent contract.

In early September of 2007, due to a foreclosure judgment (another judgment rendered in fraud), there was a foreclosure sale scheduled. I brought the debtor into bankruptcy but it was eventually dismissed a few months later.

Then in January of 2008, another foreclosure sale was scheduled for March 4th. This was the second time now that they were trying foreclosure. I needed to stop them so on February 26, I recorded two UCC-1 notices of priority maritime liens on the house using the original promissory notes that were tendered to the banks at the closing table as the security agreement creating a security interest. Doing so put me, through the straw-man, in first and second line positions, which pushed the banks into third and forth position and the HOA, who had liens on the house, into fifth position. The day after I put those filings into the foreclosure case file, my notice of priority lien as a paramount creditor. That evening, I got a knock on the door. There was a cop trying to make an arrest. I didn't answer the door because I couldn't see the cop car at the time but saw him drive away.

The next day they had another cop come out at 11:30 at night. I answered the door and told him he was not invited in the house. He was also trying to make an arrest. However, he could not produce an arrest warrant that was signed by a judge with an affidavit of probable cause attached. So he proceeded to argue with me for the next five minutes that he didn't have to have a piece of paper to make an arrest, that if his computer screen said to make an arrest then he had to make an arrest. He called two more cops to come out and argue with me for another fifteen minutes. Fact: If they had an arrest warrant they would have busted down the door and taken me. They obviously didn't have one. My daughters (age 14 and 17), who were with me that night, were now upstairs crying while this was going on and I had no idea what these guys were going to do with 'tazzers' and weapons at their sides. Were they going to call the SWAT team now? I didn't want to traumatize my kids even more, so I went ahead and went with them begrudgingly. It was a false arrest for sure, later confirmed by at least two other deputies. The arrest was for two counts of "filing a fraudulent liens". The defendant was released on bail the next day, February 29th.

On the 3rd of March, I looked in the case file and found out it wasn't the UCC-1 notices of lien I had filed. As it turned out, it was the two invoices I had put in public records back in '05 and '06 using the commercial process that the HOA's attorney was trying claim were "fraudulent liens". He tried to call them "mechanics liens", tried to say they were attached to real property and tried to use a state statute that applied to real-property, contractors and construction liens. It simply and clearly did not apply. I knew this was a railroad job and arguing like a debtor would give them jurisdiction, so the only thing I could do was act like the creditor, not question the amount of the bill (which was never disclosed) and issue my credit in negotiable instruments to settle charges against my debtor, the defendant. By the way, I had entered my debtor in chapter 7 bankruptcy at the time on March 3rd.

I had asked the prosecuting attorney in writing how much the criminal charges were worth. When she did not respond, I assumed that they were worth $150,000,000.00 a piece (I was being extremely generous). I then assigned four fiduciaries on IRS Form 56; the CFO for the State of Florida, the presiding judge on the case, the prosecuting attorney and the attorney who falsely issued the Capias for arrest (signed by a deputy clerk by the way). Using Notary Due Presentment, I tendered two $50 million instruments to the two attorneys and two $100 million instruments to the judge and CFO, $300 million total. My thoughts were to spread the liability around. The instruments were Money Orders made payable to the United States Treasury and charged back to the fiduciaries as authorized agents for the State of Florida. Along with the instrument, a Letter Rogatory from a Foreign Jurisdiction with fiduciary instructions based on 28 USC 2041, IRS Form 104V and IRS Form 1099OID (copy B) were included. Each was notified that failure to settle would be certified by the Notary as confession of judgment to theft of PUBLIC funds in the special jurisdiction, enticement to slavery, fraud, conspiracy to defraud, etc.

They failed to notify the Notary that the instruments were sent to the Treasury and that the case had been settled in good faith so I assumed they all had dishonored my tender to settle and close the claim. The Notary Certificates of Dishonour by Notary Protest rendered judgment and estoppel against the State of Florida ... times four! Legally, they couldn't go any further but they did anyhow as they're mostly uneducated and arrogant attorneys running their system.

I used the Notary Certificates of Dishonour as evidence attached to Suspicious Activity reports (SAR) and sent them off to IRS CID, Treasury, Inspector General for Treasury and TIGTA. The U.S. Treasury did issue a case number for investigation but the Treasury agent in Jacksonville, Florida could not discuss it any further with me. I didn't go to their arraignment hearing on April 15th because it was a done deal, besides it wasn't my court, it was their court for corporate fictions. Instead, I surrendered the defendant to custody of the residing judge for the arraignment hearing and possible sentencing. I sent the STATE'S Birth Certificate for the fictional defendant under Notary Presentment by UPS private courier.

At the arraignment hearing, a different judge presided (convenient...). It was determined that a man claiming to be the defendant did not show, so they assumed, of course, that the defendant skipped bail and a bench warrant for arrest was issued. It took about two weeks for the bench warrant to show up in the case file. I had my friend fetch a copy of the bench warrant and turned it into another money order for $300 million dollars, since apparently, the first $300 million didn't settle the claim. I sent this one out by Notary Due Presentment as well.

On May 12th, I went to get the Notarial protest finalized with a certificate of dishonor. But I trusted the notary more than I should have (duh!!) as the notary turned me in [agent of the State!] and they came and made an arrest outside of UPS store. Apparently, he had been threatened but lied to me when I questioned him (more than once) if had any visits or calls from any one regarding this matter.

During the arrest, the deputy assumed I was the defendant even though I carried no "photo ID" (this ticked him off!), performed an illegal search by digging through my pockets without asking permission. I never identified myself at all.

At the correctional facility, I refused to allow them to process me as the "inmate" constantly stating that I did not consent to false arrest or further detainment. But these folks are ignorant goons who constantly responded "Hey man, I'm just doing my job. Its nothing personal..." When I continued to refuse to be processed, the Sergeant finally did take things personal and threw me in a refrigerated room for nine hours straight with no shoes or socks on a bare concrete floor. Finally, at ten minutes to midnight, I was removed from the room and placed in a chair up against a wall. I was surrounded by five deputies while the shift lieutenant threatened bodily injury if I did not allow them to process (enter contract so they can get paid for the day). I was chilled to the bone and shivering so I submitted. I was put into my own private cell (at least I had SOME privacy).

I am convinced that if I had simply told them that I did not consent to bodily injury and let them keep me in that refrigerated room for another 48 hours, they would have had to release me. The correctional facility didn't have a contract with me at all and desperately needed me to submit.

Many times that morning, deputies and sergeants would ask me "what's your name?" I would respond that I did not have one or "secured party creditor". They would then ask "what's your last name" and I would respond "creditor". It really frustrated the heck out of them and I had to keep up my spirits with some internal laughter. :)

The next day, at "first appearance", the judge on video-phone ignored my demands to have some one produce evidence of the claim (1099-OID) and would not allow further bond release. I took on a PUBLIC defender to settle the claim against the defendant (that was a frustrating waste of time). The arraignment hearing was then rescheduled for June 10th, thirty days later. I believe that are issuing thirty-day bonds secured by our credit taken through the straw-man.

I waited it out till the 10th of June for the arraignment hearing (I had no choice). When the defendant was called, I asked "are you calling for the flesh and blood man or the corporation by that name?" The judge restated the defendant's name and I said "Let's be clear on the record: are you calling for the flesh and blood man or the corporation by that name?"

I asked several questions concerning jurisdiction, etc. but the judge only lied on the record. At one point I asked her to swear in and make the statement under penalty of perjury, she refused. I put on the record that she was lying. I fired the PUBLIC defender at

Want to and are Ready to begin the Redemption Process . . .

Part 2 of the Keating Prison Treatise will be woven to include a multitude of others' research, facts, proof investigations, stories, and experiences because many things are changing as we speak. We truly thank and honor the many of researchers spending thousands of hours working in all areas coming up against the bureaucracies, courts and the IRS, and give full credit due, to everyone involved. Meanwhile, Jean Keating's work can be found on the web. If there is a demand for those unable to connect to the web, we may offer copies for cost of printing & s/h. We have been inundated with phone calls, work and questions, and are ferreting-out things. We honor, accept and entertain the truth, proof and experience, but we leave the conclusions to you.

Some Secured Party Creditors are being 'ignored' in their efforts, so here's the evidence to show we ARE making a difference poking our credit at their debt bubble with stretch marks. The state of California's judicial system has been ignoring the secured party creditor and Power of Attorneys, and you know what comes with silence.... I guess they just don't know how to rule on, and what to do with the Truth...when it has never come up before.

In this present test with only two choices A or B, I choose answer "E" - none of the above, with my own honorable and deeply-held preference of potential solution by being [STO] Service to Others with the best, for all involved; and not Service-to-Self, which is an old dieing/dead paradigm. As stated in the Matrix movie by the Key Maker when asked by Trinity, "Where are you going?" the Key Maker, while using a key to open another door, says, "Another way...there's always another way."

But, keeping you in a dizzying maze of 'government' bureaucracy in constant survival mode, fending for yourself, while 'they' feast at your table, ALL to buy more stuff to put into warehouses and storage units, SURELY, isn't it. Look folks, [unless you barter] we're all stuffed-out and warehoused-out. We surely 'don't buy their lies' and how can we buy any more stuff while basic needs are not being met. The system has ugly stretch-marks and bad 'ju-ju' signifying need for change and purging. 6 million-plus and growing laws, codes and statutes are nonexistent in common law, based on natural law. Every street has either homes or, businesses with every one of those being yet another place to spend more money we don't have. We work to buy stuff. We are called and labeled 'consumers' [self-milking cows] by the government. We're killing trees being 'Formed' to-death', in the hopes that if a 'Form' is thrown at it, it'll go away. It has become egregious figuring out the paperwork - we surely have a 'Form' to fill out for that, it has more rules, laws, and hoops to jump through, all guaranteed and insured because it is now somebody else's responsibility they re-wrapped into a hot-potato [debt, your stolen credit, unbalanced] whereby it now has become a live hand grenade lobbed at you, while you figure out how to poke at that debt-mess they made with your stolen credit. Guess who's holding the pin. That 'some body else' ain't gunna be home when we come knocking.

No one really reads an insurance policy until after they get into an accident. Besides, now we need to buy a magnifying glass to read ALL the fine print that has become so microscopic and crammed into illusions of 'legal' fictions of limits, laws, restrictions, fees, penalties, contraindications, rules and ramifications should you choose their product. The TV commercials have speeded-up to sound like the chipmunks - to fit-into a 30-second time-slot...all to sell you more stuff.

Another way...there's always another way

Start reading those insurance policies, forms, agreements, credit card agreements, and the laws codes and statutes and KNOW, that it is by your silence, which you consented-to the new contract terms just by 'using' the credit card because you felt you had no other choice...Gotcha.

Why use offshore when homegrown slave labor is available?

Imagine... All the benefits of domestic outsourcing at off shore prices. It's the best-kept secret in outsourcing!

The following example is from the UNICOR website: For over 70 years, UNICOR/ Federal Prison Industries (FPI) has been operating factories & employing inmates in America's correctional institutions. Operating under a Department of Justice mandate to employ inmates in productive work and it is a self-sustaining public corporation that receives no tax dollars. After years of providing quality goods & services to federal agencies, UNICOR now has the authority to partner with private sector firms who are sending the work off shore, or in lieu of sending the work off shore. Companies expanding into new areas of business can also take advantage of UNICOR's unique outsourcing alternative. With more & more contact center work being outsourced for cost savings, UNICOR can provide contact center support at a highly competitive rate, & do it right here in the USA. Now, private companies & government agencies can outsource their contact center work to UNICOR. In a nutshell: You provide the software, telcom, & training, & we'll provide the facility & labor. Inbound Directory Assistance (I-DA) employs over 200 workers, 7 days a week, handling all manner of Directory Assistance calls. Outbound B2B - ...has performed data scrubbing, lead generation, & profiling for some of the top companies in America. Employing over 100 workers "following the sun" 5 days a week... When you outsource to UNICOR/Federal Prison Industries, the benefits are very clear.

The Best Kept Secret in Outsourcing...

Let's face it, outsourcing off shore can be a hassle. There are language barriers, varying monetary exchange rates, time differences, & simply visiting your contact center can involve a transoceanic flight. When you outsource with UNICOR, your contact center is located in the United States, & those issues disappear. Your company will enjoy all the benefits of a domestic operation, with the cost savings of going off shore. When you partner with UNICOR, your company is providing valuable job skills to federal inmates while it repatriates jobs back from overseas.

'Transparent' is not 'transparency' - The words are 2 different things

Outsourcing - a pretty word for selling-out the majority of our country's businesses and corporations - your jobs, livelihoods, and homes. This 'transparency' [Orwellian double-speak: hiding in plain sight? or transparently vanished?] is all accomplished by 'legal' NOT LAWFUL tax evasion by government, courts and 'legal' systems, banks, stock markets, and corporate entities using pass-over and flow-through foreclosure mortgages - REITs; all for providing tax-exempt slave labor - WORLDWIDE.

President Bush's representation of those

PRISON BONDS, CORPORATIONS & ST

UN-employed was blatant 'undercover-transparency' of job-shifting and co-mingling slave labor camps. If you've lost your business, your job, your home, auto, and money for food and didn't pay your taxes - did you end up in the court/prison system? "Here, you dead-beat, you didn't pay for this on time, so we legally have to charge you more interest, taxes, fines, fees and penalties." Oh, and then there's the threat & punishment of it going on your, 'permanent record' - that dreaded credit report with an asinine & contrived scoring system made-up by 'them'. Some of those obnoxious phone calls you got from 'debt-collectors' probably came from a bank that out-sourced collections to a prison facility. Banks went from being an FDIC insured bank by privatizing and making millions selling their bank shares and becoming an LLC with limited liability [not our responsibility], or merely opening a department/ separate fictitious entity called 'debt-collectors' somewhere in India or China.

Just how much can they take from you when they've taken it all and want more? Are you feeling used and sucked-dry, yet? 'They' have invented a 'credit report' but, just where is our 'debit report'? A 3-leg'd table appears as 'off-sheet' un-balanced accounting whereby they have to steal your credit and OID [Original Issue Discount]. We have your belongings and bag of money we stole from you... but don't worry, it's got your name on it. Oh, we'll give it back to you - only if - you find out we stole it, AND we are not going to tell you HOW you go about getting it back; you'll have to figure THAT out on your own. BUT, every time you do, we'll just write another law, code or statute, change the rules to suit us and then we'll start our 'frivolous and abusive' name-calling, numbering and labeling we use to pronounce you guilty to thwart your every effort. You can also FOIA yourself to death by what the IRS and courts now labels, 'frivolous FOIA filing'. If that doesn't work, we've got a new tactic whereby we ignore you and devalue you by arrogantly dismissing your relevance when you get too close to an answer or come too close to finding a way out. If any manage to 'get out' of the system, others will be made an example of, making sure no one follows.

Potentials are actually limitless, while choices can have limitations

Actually, the old [STS] Service-to-Self paradigm functions that way. 2008 has been a ping-pong year. We were battered back-and-forth in extremes going from 0 to 100 within competitive prize or punishment. Bullies use disparagement and put-down others by name-calling & tagging others - for hundreds of years others were labeled an infidel because they didn't hold the same beliefs specified by another. You are bullied by dysfunctional governments, financial institutions, the courts, and the IRS and are therefore compelled into conformity via their projecting blame on those they are going after, by controlling and abusive battery. This is an STS system of duality - dueling, not with swords but, with words with 2 different meanings and perspectives - an 'either/or' thought-form of illusion in belief 'thinking' that you have a choice. Choosing between only 2 different choices with an agenda that you don't find out about until it is too late, with self-serving conditions, either/ or, black & white, yes or no

- is still a compromise [a little bit of something that never satisfies], with one choice, perhaps sucking more-than or less-than the other.

The whole problem and nothing else is that the public & national debt or deficit is not being redeemed on the public side through your exemption on the private side, and is the reason you have run away inflation & wars in the public realms. The reason wars are fought is to kill or execute people to cancel the debt. You will find out that under Title 12 Section 1811 & Section 3104 [insurance of deposits] every demand deposit account including checking, savings & credit card accounts are insured under the FDIA [Federal Depository Insurance Act] through the FDIC [Federal Depository Insurance Corporation] Title 12 section 1811 (a).

When they execute the debtor to eliminate the debt, they also collect the insurance money; you are actually worth more dead [debt] than alive. Why do you think the police are so quick to shoot people? This executes or eliminates both the debtor & the debt, in one swift action or execution. This is all involves the laws of Karma, which in physics involves the Laws of Cause & Effect. This is also the occult or hidden meaning of the scriptures concerning salvation & redemption.

Anybody who tries to run from the police is called an absconding debtor in admiralty maritime law & may be shot or captured under the law of Prize. An excellent case is THE CARTONA 297 Federal Reporter 1st series pg. 827. This case says you have to have an interest or a lien before you can intervene with a claim in Admiralty under Rule 24 of the F.R.C.P.

In the United States, everything started with the Civil War & the Insurrection & Rebellion Acts of August 6, 1861 & July 17, 1862, which are still current law today under Title 50 Sections 212, 213, we have been under a military, provisional, occupational government since 1861. This is why the United States has been divided into Internal Revenue Districts under Title 26 Section 7621 by the president of the United States & is what the zip code designates.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt in June of 1933 sold more gold contracts than the treasury had gold; this created a marine peril or peril of the sea, because of the run on the treasury, due to the foreign gold contracts. To avert the loss of gold, due to this run, Roosevelt outlawed gold & gold contracts to avert the apparent peril or loss of gold in the Treasury. In admiralty any time cargo [gold] is sacrificed to avert the peril, everybody who is a passenger on the ship or vessel [the United States] has to pay for the loss or sacrifice through the doctrine of Contribution. They had to insure or indemnify their losses through a maritime insurance policy; they accomplished this through FICA [Federal Insurance Contribution Act], which is Black's Law Dictionary of law contains definitions of the terms and phrases of American and English jurisprudence, ancient and modern.

While these volumes contain just the sort of legal verbiage that one would expect, they also include terms from legal Latin and legal French, as well as words and phrases from Scottish and Welsh law. There are dozens of Latin and French terms of kinship, which appear in older wills and lawsuits.

The publishers of Black's Law Dictionary are now producing their eighth edition, and the newer editions have added information on the developments in the law in recent decades. But for legal researchers the earlier editions retain their value, since they have a higher proportion of information on older law, especially the English feudal law, which is essential for the interpretation of documents from the American colonial period and from the England that the colonists left.

In the second edition of Black's Law, also on this CD, Black included more citations to law reports and case law, in support of his definitions, and also added many more terms of medical jurisprudence.

The paper edition of both of these books has long been recognized as an essential reference tool for legal researchers.

To make room for new material, more modern editions have dropped the very words the legal researchers may need to interpret old documents--the archaic and obsolete terms that haven't been used for a century or more.

Now both editions on one CD - ONLY $ 33.00

the insurance policy under Social Security. Everybody who has a SS number is a Co-debtor or Co-surety for the loss of gold or money under the public policy of H.J.R. 192 & Title 31 Section 5118 (2) (d).

Every State has passed or adopted the Joint-Tort-Feasors Act under the doctrine of Contribution. This is all insurance which is, of admiralty maritime law. This is called general average contribution in admiralty maritime law. Grant Gilmore the co-author of the Law of Admiralty wrote Article 9 of the U.C.C. on secured transactions. This should tell you something. Everybody is a merchant at law under Article 2-104 (1), because they use commercial paper in their every day transactions & hold themselves by occupation as having knowledge or skill peculiar to the practices or goods involved in the transaction. This, the court never tells or discloses.

Title 26 Section 6305 says "upon receiving a certification from the Secretary of Health & Human Services, under section 452 (b) of the Social Security Act with respect to any individual, the Secretary shall assess & collect the amount certified by the Secretary of Health & Human Services, in the same manner, with the same powers, & (except as provided in this section) subject to the same limitations as if such amount were a tax imposed by subtitle C." The inference here is that the Secretary is collecting an insurance premium, as though it were a tax. Why? There is no money - everything is insurance & you can't pay a tax with a debt instrument. We as Principals own, hold, & control both sides of the accounting ledger: the private, debit or asset side & the public, credit or debt side.

Under Title 26 Section 163, all prepaid interest is tax deductible. When you don't use your exemption in exchange for the debt or deficit they execute on you to eliminate the debt, in the prisons or credit facilities this is called the death or debt penalty. Isn't murder a Capital Offense & isn't Capital interest or accruals from you as the Principal? An exemption is intellectual property under international law, if you don't use it, it becomes abandoned property, and the corporations use it on a 1096 tax return as prepaid interest to get your deduction & pass the tax on to you. A tax is nothing but a return of capital & interest back to the principal that is why a return is called a tax return. This is what you are paying every time you make a purchase at the retail level on a retail contract under the truth in lending. Look at any 1099 OID [original issue discount] or 1099 INT [interest] or 1099 PTR [patron] which are issued by banks.

All merchandise is prepaid before it leaves the factory, what merchants are collecting at the retail level is the tax, capital, interest, accrual or revenue on you as the principal, because you have abandoned your exemption as the Principal. They cannot execute on a contract under the common law, because there is no money that is why they have to do an exchange using your exemption for the debt to discharge, redeem or effectuate post settlement & closure of your account. This is why the banks never close your account after you have withdrawn all your money.

When you are refused access to a credit card by alleged bad credit, the bank is making a claim on your account by using your exemption. They are assuming ownership of your name as the principal; if they release the account, they are giving you your deduction for the prepaid account as the principal. The bottom line to all this is that you only have what you lay claim to. Remember, rights are defined under 1-201 (34) of the UCC as remedies.

The Jewish Passover is an exchange of the future to the past or the past to the future. Your Treasury Bill is exchanged for a Treasury Bond making the Bill a future event or Futures Contract.

I believe that the prisons are repository institutions or facilities for securities [prisoners] as collateral for the public & national debt. The prisoners represent asset or repository money for the Bid, Performance & Payment Bonds. The prisons are referred to as credit facilities, institutions or repositories. They function essentially the same way that a Depository Bank does, under 17 CFR Section 450. The Prisons are acting in the capacity of a fiduciary or custodian over Government Securities or otherwise, for the account of a customer, and are not government securities brokers or dealers, as defined in Sections 3 (a)(44) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15U.S.C. 78 c (a) (43)-(44)). The regulations in Subchapter B are promulgated by the Assistant Secretary (Domestic Finance) pursuant to a delegation of Authority from the Secretary of The Treasury. The office responsible for the regulations is the Office of the Commissioner, Bureau of the Public Debt.

I also believe that the Bid Bonds are being used to purchase commercial items [commercial paper] such as court judgments this is done through GSA SF form 1449 contract form & is a rated order under DPAS [Defense Priorities & Allocations System] see 15CFR 700 this is under the National Security Industrial Base Regulations. This is all under the Executive Branch under the President & Military.

Sureties & Surety Bonds are covered in Title 31 Sections 9301-9309. The Bid, Performance, & Payment Bonds fall in the category of surety bonds under these provisions: under Section 9303, Government Obligations may be substituted for Surety Bonds. Government Obligations are defined as public debt obligations of the United States Government & an obligation whose principal & interest is unconditionally guaranteed by the Government.

The bid, performance & payment bonds in addition to being sold on the commodities & securities exchange as pooled mortgaged backed securities & cleared for settlement through the FICC [Fixed Income Clearing Corporation] is the holder until the Bonds are sold, are also being pledged as collateral for funds & a line of credit at the discount window or the open-market trading desk of Freddie Mac, Fannie Mae, Sally Mae, Ginnie Mae, or your local Federal Reserve Bank. All discount Window advances must be secured by collateral acceptable to the Reserve Bank. The following types of assets are 11 most commonly pledged to secure discount window advances: Obligations of the United States Treasury; of U.S. government agencies & government sponsored enterprises; of states or political subdivisions of the U.S.; Collateralized Mortgage Obligations; Asset backed securities; Corporate bonds; Money market instruments; Residential real estate loans; Commercial, industrial, or agricultural loans; Commercial real estate loans; and, Consumer loans. Check with your local Reserve Bank with any questions about other types of collateral.

U.S. District Courts are buying up the State Court default judgments, when you refuse to pay or dishonor the debt. Contractors & Insurance Companies are bidding on the default judgments with a Bid Bond and then a Reinsurance Company comes in & purchases a Performance Bond as a surety for the Bid Bond. The Performance Bond is then underwritten by a Payment Bond and is usually done by an investment company or investment banker. When these Bonds are pooled, they become mortgage backed securities or surety bonds and are then put on the bond market through TBA [The Bond Association]. These bonds are also sold as investment securities through brokerage houses or insurance companies. Securicor is one of your biggest international securities companies & is located in South Africa & have acquired Gray Security Services. Securicor was formed from the merger between Securicor pic & Group 4 Falk, which was completed in July 2004; Securicor operates in 50 different countries.

Reinsurance is defined as insurance of all or part of one insurer's risk by a 2nd insurer, who accepts the risk in exchange for a percentage of the original premium; this is all admiralty maritime at its finest. Also termed reinsurance it has been used by courts, attorneys, & text writers with so little discrimination that such confusion has arisen as to what that term actually connotes. Thus, it has so often been used in connection with transferred risks, assumed risks, consolidations & mergers, excess insurance, & in other connections, that it now lacks a clear-cut field of operation. Reinsurance, to an insurance lawyer means one thing only - the ceding by one insurance company to another of all or a portion of its risks for a stipulated portion of the premium, in which the liability of the reinsurer is solely to the reinsured, which is the ceding company and, in which contract, the ceding company retains all contact with the original insured.

All of the performance & payment bonds are regulated & controlled by FAR [Federal Acquisition Regulations], which is under [48 CFR] 28.202-1 & 53.228(h). These bonds are being used in cases where it is desired to cover the excess of a Direct Writing Company's underwriting limitation by reinsurance instead of co-insurers on Miller act performance bonds running to the United States. These FAR regulations come in 2 volumes, and these should be consulted & read before these bonds are used. The Miller Act is found in Title 40 U.S.C.A. Sections 270 a - 270d-1 & is federal law requiring the posting of performance & payment bonds before an award is made for a contract for construction, alteration, or repair of a public work or building. The surety company issuing these bonds must be listed as a qualified surety on the Treasury List, which the U.S. Department of the Treasury issues each year.

To win in court you have to know what goes on in court. What goes on in the court rooms goes back to Edward the First - it's called Statute Merchant and what it is, is a Bond of Merchant or Bond of Record. The statutes themselves are the Bond and what they do is duplicate the statutes that they charge you under with what they call a Recognizance Bond and people sign the Recognizance Bond without reading what the Bond says. What it says is that you agree to pay back the debt. When you go into court on a criminal charge, it's CIVIL NOT CRIMINAL. There's a book called the "Jurisdiction and Practice of the Law of Admiralty" by John E. Hall [this book was never intended for public viewing] it's based on "Clerk's Praxis." The Clerk's Praxis was a clerk of the court of registrar of the Court's Arches under the King's Bench. The Court of Arches is a court of Probate. If you want to understand how Admiralty works, this is the book you need to read, the reason being; read the case of "Waring v. Clark," it talks about "Clerks Praxis" in there and they used it in the Vice Admiralty Courts in the Colonies during the American Revolution. This book caused the American Revolution.

What they're doing is all about Bonds. When you go into the courtroom after you're arrested they use 2 different sets of Bonds. When you're arrested they fill out a 'Bid Bond'. Bonds are all put out by GSA - General Services Administration, and is under the 'Comptroller of the Currency' which is under the GAO, the 'General Accounting Office'. SF means 'Standard Form.' You have 2 sets of Bonds: at the State level you have SF24-Bid Bond, SF25-Performance Bond & SF25A-Payment Bond. They don't use a 'Bid Bond' in the District Court. "Miller Act" reinsurance will list 3 different kinds of Bonds. At the Federal level or for the United States District Court you have SF 273- Reinsurance Agreement for a Miller Act Performance Bond; SF 274-Reinsurance Agreement for a Miller Act Payment Bond. SF 275 is the Reinsurance Agreement in Favor of the United States.

What are they doing with these Bonds? What's going on in the courtroom is that they are suing you for a debt collection. What it is, is an action of 'ASSUMPSIT' The word 'PRESUME' comes from the word 'Assumpsit' which means "I agree or I presume to do". An act of "Assumpsit" is "I agree to a collection of a debt". If you look at every one of these Bonds: 'Bid Bond,' Performance Bond & Payment Bond all have a 'PENAL SUM' attached to it. The reason for the 'Penal Sum' is if you don't pay the Debt, you go into 'Default Judgment.'

That is what is going on in the courtroom. That is why all of these guys are sitting in prison wondering what's going on. Jack Smith is exactly correct in what he is saying about the HONOR & DISHONOR. If you go in and argue jurisdiction or refuse to answer questions that the judge or the court addresses to you, they will find you in contempt of court and they will put you in jail and if you read "Clerks Praxis" that's all they talk about is contempt. What they used to do back in Edward the 1st; if you owed a Debt they would send a Sheriff out with a Warrant to arrest you. This is ALL CIVIL; this is NOT CRIMINAL. It's just a smoke screen to cover up what they are doing with Mercantile Civil Law and what they used to do when they arrest people with a warrant and brought the person into court and made them sign a Bond to release until the civil suit commenced.

For years and years, people have all kinds of theories on the straw man that there's some kind of an account out there with millions, if not trillions of dollars in it, that it is available and how this account can be used to write-off bills, or taxes, or whatever. But, that doesn't mean that it is not there. The 'Registered' Straw Man with a Trustee is revealed and is based on revealing the truth of these secret-coded IMF Files. You all know that the IRS does keep secret-coded information in files about you and why they are keeping these files. The IMF, when it is decoded with IRS Manuals, actually does tell the truth concerning the straw man issue, and we see how it does apply to you. Remember, this is strictly based on what we have found in the Individual Master Files. Let's take a stroll down the yellow brick road to find the straw man with a Tax Identification Number [TIN MAN] and fling open that curtain revealing you're living in a dream world.

Stay tuned for Part 3...where we gather more evidence about their dirty, hidden tricks.

Excerpt: "Now you've got hard-copy proof of what they've done to you. That's fraud, folks, that is just downright fraud. This isn't just the truth; this is what they've done and doing....

Interview and questions with Dezert Owl on the Master Force Group

by SpiritWoman

S.W.- Do you mind if I ask you about your name since it is unusual... do you come from a long line of Owls?

D.O. - No – actually the first in that generation... I know the heavenly father is symbolically in ancient metaphor, an owl, a spirit that moves and sees all things within the night – He is actually that “all-seeing eye” that the occult claimed for their own... which inspired me to take on that name since I can see in the darkness of this night too – so now, I am a metaphor since the mid-1980’s, divinely inspired. The scriptures in Proverbs says twice; “That a good name is to be chosen over the riches of this world.” So, I obeyed the scriptures.

S.W. - When did you become aware of the division between the Wizard of Oz, the commercial world we live in, and the private living man or woman?

D.O. - My eyes were opened and I was able to see clearly piercing the veil of the illusions when I was 22 years old. I went on a vision quest and I hiked to the summit of Mt. Whitney (14,500 ft), the tallest peak in the contiguous United States and there-upon was anointed to see the truth. My universe changed as soon as I came off of the mountain. I pierced the phoney world of words and symbols in particular. It started with the words revealing their true hidden nature, their components; the ancient root meaning within the words. The words led to everything else. Everything is about words and symbols. For example, how many people today think about the word “person?” You are NOT a person. A person is from the beginning; A Shield; A Mask; An Actor; A Corporation; A Fiction! A “natural person” is nothing more that a natural “corporation.” This IS the most misused word in America today.

S.W.-Have you always been involved with Radio?

D.O. - When I started publicly in my mission to expose the wrongs, it was around 1992-93, after doing my research and figuring it all out; my big inspiration was Chuck Harder with For The People Radio Network; then from there I started an organization called United Truckers Defending the Constitution. I was on every Sunday with my program: “America’s Driving Force” on Ameranet Broadcasting. I was also on international shortwave and some mainstream AM-FM stations. That was when I had my best following because of the shortwave radio and that got me out there in a world-wide medium. The world-wide short wave got me my first exposure and I did that for a little more than a year. I was also a random guest on other programs throughout that period, discussing politics, law, the esoteric nature of the world, words and word meanings and how symbols are tied into all that.

S.W.- Then what happened?

D.O. - My organization was infiltrated by local and out-of-state agents, including MI 6. Their actions against me cost me my house on a lake, my organization and they attempted to ruin my reputation by calling all my associates, having photocopied my private phone book, and then turning people away who were trying to reach me.

I finally left in peace and ended up leaving Texas, a place where I was married for 17 years, where I home-schooled my daughter and step-daughter. You could say I went inward during that period, I retreated, and accumulated a library of 2,000 books, separating myself from the world at large. I was waking up by getting away from the garbage and false nature of this world and continually discovering what was real. Like the word “behold;” it means: “You must “see” and “read” it for yourself. It is meant for you to see, to see one’s self by going inward and then to know the truth.

S.W.- When did you start this most recent project – the Master Force Group (MFG)?

D.O.- About a year ago, last July (2007). The purpose was primarily to fund the radio network in a creative way. But MFG itself was conceived over 20 years ago through various cottage industries and publishing ideas I had.

S.W.- Can we talk a little bit about what the Master Force Group is and what you hope it can do?

D.O. - MFG’s Motto is “Making This A Better World.” One of the primary aspects is to offer members products at absolute wholesale prices, and some things that they cannot get anywhere else, to save them money, but really to offer them items which will help them live better, either through improved health or services, and to be prepared for the destruction I feel is coming.

The donations, or contributions, will be providing funding for the radio network, to help spread truth around the world, and when we have enough contributors, since the station does not demand huge sums of money to operate, those remaining funds can go back to the fellow members who are part of MFG. While at the same time the MFG members are helping to create a society of people of like minds who would want to be there to serve each other in dire straits and needs, those donation/pledges go toward membership, after support of the radio station, through a geometric payment program which means that as we grow exponentially and funds increase the members receive a return... which they can apply to their own projects. Tell us what you would do to “make this a better world”... we are looking for members with vision who can see that their purpose on earth is indeed to be the positive force.

S.W.- You say on air that the mission of the station is to “help people...” can you expound on that?

D.O.- OnTheREALPublicRadio.net we bring on any one who is offering an insight into the true nature of what is going on. We have the best researchers in the law, history, finance, etc. and these speakers can also own a piece of the rock (the radio station), being true electors within their society, speaking truth about the wrongs that are being committed against our friends across the board – laying a foundation for protection for their families – the only option we have – in their (the world rulers’) sandbox, you cannot win at their game – they want you to think you can, but it’s the same game they’ve been playing for thousands of years... and what can stop them? They’ve got UFO’s, they have created the illusions of aliens, they are the “grand masters” of illusion, and I believe our mission is to destroy the illusions and bring everyone into reality.

Within our MFG society, we have several additional support programs to be there financially for our members, providing important information and connecting people with the right researcher dealing with any of the issues they may be having problems with, in all areas from law to computers, etc. anything anyone needs information on or help with... a full service 24-hr help line... some people can’t even “Google” on a computer, believe it or not – old and young, we are a real family of caring people... and membership of this sort is a real steal – and for a song (!) at only $10 per month... So, change your universe for the price of a song, or a C.D. song.

S.W.- How can people listen in or participate in the radio shows? (What is the web address, etc.)

D.O. - Right now we are just on at prime time in the evening, late afternoon and evenings, 7 days a week. All funds are in the form of a donation, but you can still benefit if you don’t become a member, only you will not have access to the archives of the private community, or to the newsletter and other special offers/services... the free programs are all of public service, the law, health and the victim outreach programs – we don’t want people to have to pay anything to get important information, but we have exclusive programs that will be private access for members only.

Call 712-432-8773, then punch in the Pin: 179441 # or on the web, you can find us at: www.TheREALPublicRadio.net.

As the producer, I don’t necessarily agree with all the information that is presented, but it is up to the listener to discern what is valuable for themselves. I’m not the conscience of the listener which time the judge, trying to regain jurisdiction, tried to get me to state whether I was an “individual” or a “corporation”. I asked her to define “individual”, to which she gave me some ridiculous mumbo-jumbo. All the while, five armed guards slowly surrounded me from all sides. They basically knew they had no jurisdiction over flesh and blood [man] and wouldn’t answer any of my demands to prove that they did. Because I was consistent with my position, the judge had the armed guards run me out of their courtroom, which was an act of treason. Once I was removed, the judge said on the record “he’s not an individual, so he must be a corporation and corporations cannot represent themselves so we going to appoint a public defender on the case and we’re going to put a ‘not guilty plea.’” That was total fraud going on there. The next hearing, a “docket sounding hearing”, was scheduled for August 13th.

The PUBLIC defender held a bond hearing two weeks later. The bond, of course, was denied. During the bond hearing, the prosecuting attorney (an appointed fiduciary and recipient of a $100M instrument) said in her verbal objection to bonding out; “well, he does not recognize the State of Florida, he does not recognize the United States, he sent in his own order to dismiss the case and he sent himself to the court!” (presumably referring to the B.C., a piece of paper!). So now she is calling me a piece of paper! It was obvious that they did not have jurisdiction over the ‘flesh and blood’ man, they knew it and were playing whatever games they could to gain and keep jurisdiction. All the while, this fraud was going on the court record because all criminal case hearings are recorded and have a court reporter.

While in jail, everything I autographed was always under my limited liability of my signature, never as the defendant. It was always; “All rights reserved w/o prejudice. A political prisoner accepting benefits and privileges under threat, duress and coercion. By: Kenneth Scott Vitale, authorized agent ©KENNETH SCOTT VITALE, Ens legis. It went on everything! The folks at the Jail became very agitated at me. I was threatened by the on-staff mental health agent who threatened to lock me up for three weeks to determine if I am schizophrenic. The day-shift lieutenant got really pissed at me and started playing games by withholding my reading glasses and books sent in from family. He threatened folks that asked me to help them fill out their request forms (there are lots of uneducated indigents in county jail). All I had to do to get them to back off was write the Major and tell him to fix the attitude problem with his subordinates who were supposed to be “professional law enforcement agents” or supply me with the cover page of the facility’s public hazard bond so I can put in my claim for Constitutional Offenses. This brought results in a few hours!

I finally had to go and hire an attorney for the defendant, to get the defendant out and deal with this in their system. The attorney had been practicing for thirty years and knew everyone in the area. He’s known the judge and the prosecuting attorney for 20 and 30 years.

On the 21st of August, they ROR’d (Released on Own Recognizance) the defendant (not a bond). As corporeal surety, I got to go home with defendant. The hearing ended about 11:15AM. By the time I was returned to the jail, it was 11:45AM. I had to wait another 10 minutes for the C.O. to return to his post to let me back in the dorm. When the C.O. Fredricks returned, he told me “In the twelve years I’ve been here, I’ve never seen anything like this! They called to have you released a half hour ago!” They had release my debtor from jail before I returned from the courthouse? It usually took two hours to process any one out after being released. They wanted me out in a hurry. I told Fredricks that I had to make a call to get a ride. He responded with “you can’t! Get your stuff and go or I’ll have to arrest you again!” I asked “what for, trespassing?” He nodded. I no longer had a contract with the facility and was asked to leave. If I didn’t, it would be trespass.

After I was released, I went to talk to the attorney. He was gone, so I talked to his paralegals. One para-legal said to me; the reason they didn’t want to bond the defendant out, is that the prosecuting attorney wanted to hook me up with a big tax protester group in Orlando, Florida. [presumably referring to the Eddie Kahn matter]. The attorney for the defendant told the prosecutor that I was not a protester and that I want the IRS to send me some nice big invoices because they’re all tax refunds to me! The bigger, the better!

On September 1st, I was asked to visit the defendant’s attorney. I had a friend with me at the time. The attorney said to me; “Scott, I want you to know that the prosecuting attorney got a visit from Home Land Security – Division of Domestic Terrorism...scared the hell out of her! You reported to the IRS that this criminal case was a taxable event ... and that’s fraud!” I responded “okay, if you think so.” He then looked me in the eye and said in a stern voice “If you ever did that to me, I would come looking for you with a gun!” He then said “You know, these Federal guys will let you get away with this crap once or twice then they’ll look for a way to hang you for good!”

Now all the while I’m listening to him but all these thoughts were going through my mind like; “If that’s the case why did the State release the debtor ‘ROR’? Why are there not FEDERAL charges against the defendant now? Why am I not sitting in a federal jail right now with federal charges against the defendant? If they have to look for a reason, why not now? Why wait and look for a reason later? I tendered $600 Million Dollars in negotiable instruments, why not say they are fraudulent and put me away now? Why am I not still sitting behind bars ... rather than being in your office talking to you? Keeping in mind that this attorney had been trying to convince me all along that all I knew was a bunch of

The Little Red Hen

She called all of her Democrat neighbors together and said, 'If we plant this wheat, we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?'

'Not I,' said the cow. 'Not I,' said the duck. 'Not I,' said the pig. 'Not I,' said the goose.

'Then I will do it by myself,' said the little red hen, and so she did. The wheat grew very tall and ripened into golden grain.

'Who will help me reap my wheat?' asked the little red hen.

'Not I,' said the duck... 'Out of my classification,' said the pig... 'I'd lose my

'That would be overtime for me,' said the cow... 'I'd lose my welfare benefits,' said the duck... 'I'm a dropout and never learned how,' said the pig... 'If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination,' said the goose.

'Then I will do it by myself,' said the little red hen.

She baked five loaves and held them up for all of her neighbors to see. They wanted some and, in fact, demanded a share. But the little red hen said, 'No, I shall eat all five loaves.'

'Excess profits!' cried the cow. (Nancy Pelosi) ... 'Capitalist leech!' screamed the duck. (Barbara Boxer) 'I demand equal rights!' yelled the goose. (Jesse Jackson) ... The pig just grunted in disdain. (Ted Kennedy)

And they all painted 'Unfair!' picket signs and marched around and around the little red hen, shouting obscenities.

Then the farmer (Obama) came. He said to the little red hen, 'You must not be so greedy.'

'But I earned the bread,' said the little red hen.

'Exactly,' said Obama the farmer. 'That is what makes our free enterprise system so wonderful. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide the fruits of their labor with those who are lazy and idle.' (communism at its best!)

And they all lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked, 'I am grateful, for now I truly understand.'

But her neighbors became quite disappointed in her for She never again baked bread again (free enterprise) because she (was programmed) joined the 'party' and got her bread free. And all the Democrats smiled. 'Fairness' had been established.

Individual initiative had died, free enterprise destroyed but nobody noticed; perhaps no one cared...so long as there was free bread (communism) that 'the rich' were paying for (by and through excessive taxation of the animals and debtors on the Plantation). Welcome to Amerika!

IS THIS A GREAT BARNYARD OR WHAT?

P.S., Where was communism spawned? Come on... take a guess! No! it was not in Russia... No, not Hollywood (though it flourished there)... No, not China! Communism was born in Beaver County, Pennsylvania - 1785-1847 via ... George Rapp's Harmony Society. Now you know. Like a virus, it spread all over the U.S. barnyard and every since then we have nothing but commie-shit!

seniority,' said the cow. 'I'd lose my unemployment compensation,' said the goose.

'Then I will do it by myself,' said the little red hen, and so she did.

At last it came time to bake the bread.

'Who will help me bake the bread?' asked the little red hen.

KNOW YOUR TRANSFORMING WORLD

CYBORGENICS
The Merging of Man & Machine

Tracing the emerging global culture amidst the approaching technological convergence

Ryan Andrew Hanson

Cyborgenics confronts us with past, present, and highly possible-if not inevitable-future realities as we observe a trend in fast becoming one with our incredibly shrinking machines seeking to improve upon our humanity.

An extraordinary presentation/exposé of our transformation towards a global culture...with rare insight into the true connection between biology, belief, and the postmodern man.

Hanson provides a fresh, relevant, yet concise summary of key issues we face today — in a way we can better grasp as well as simplify for others.

Cyborgenics is a must read for those whose hearts are set towards influencing their world for a sustainable, beneficial future.

Class-Action Lawsuit Filed Against FMC-Carswell – Claims of Torture and Genocide, Eighth Amendment Cruel and Unusual Punishment and U.C.C. 1 Violations.

From Prison SHU Cell #101 (Carswell's Dungeon)

A class action lawsuit filed by 20 Federal women inmates at FMC-Carswell in Ft. Worth was transferred to the Honorable Sam A. Lindsay at the USDC, Dallas. Case number 3-08-CV-1075-L was filed on June 25 2008. More inmates are joining in!

The dangerously overcrowded prison conditions have jeopardized the health, safety and welfare of some 1,850+ Federal women prisoners, many of them chronically ill, disabled, elderly and vulnerable. Many inmates have already died as a direct result.

After the filing of the class-action lawsuit, lead plaintiff Elizabeth Broderick, 65 years-old and wheelchair bound for 4 ½ years was arrested in the prison law library and thrown into the prison SHU (aka the prison "Hellhole" or dungeon – a prison within a prison). Her "crime"? The exposing of the TRUTH! A whistle blower! Exposing the horrendous prison conditions. But will the truth set her free?

Over one-third of most prisons nationwide consist of illegal aliens. Carswell is no exception. American inmates cannot get the critical health care they need due to prison overcrowding. Although there are a handful of professional, caring and knowledgeable prison staff, the vast majority of staff are sadistic, lazy, ignorant, abusive and worthless government bums who cost the taxpayers dearly.

According to the class-action complaint, prison conditions for the elderly, chronically ill, disabled and vulnerable are tantamount to torture for them because their special needs are not being met. Prison officials claim that those Special-Needs inmates "are not medically necessary." Now t is for a jury to decide. And the battle for justice is on!

An application for a Temporary Restraining Order and a Preliminary Injunction under Title 18 U.S.C. § 3626(a)(B)(ii) and (iii), requesting an immediate release order for the medically neglected, abused and suffering women inmates was filed this week. Requests to send the sick and dying inmates to community hospitals is being made by Certified Paralegal E. Broderick.

Neo

Linda J. of Arizona asks:

If I'm filed as a Secured Party Creditor in the states of Washington and Iowa, am I able to "do business " in Arizona, i.e. conditionally accepting presentments for value, bills of exchange, promissory notes, etc.?

Neo says:

One who becomes a Secured Party Creditor also becomes a "private banker". Not that you become a "bank" per se, but as a SPC you can accept for value, create Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes and other instruments to take care of the commercial affairs of the debtor, i.e. discharge of debts, including the courts. Because you are UCC-1 is filed in Washington, that fact is recognized by all other states, even those states who will not accept an informational filing following the filing in Washington.

Alverne B. of Kansas asks:

I am particularly interested in becoming an advocate for change in the prison system. Taxpayer's dollars can be better served if we use that money for more preventative means. How can I get involved in prison reform?

Neo says:

Due to the corporate nature of the American prison system, on both a State and Federal level, it is unlikely that true reform will be realized in our lifetime. Please contact prisonerservices@americansbulletin.com and ask for the publication "How a Prisoner Funds America".

NOW in each issue of The American's Bulletin we will offer answers [space allowing] to our reader's questions. Mail or email (neo@americansbulletin.com) us your question that is short and to the point and we will select the most relevant and provide an answer.

being ordered to answer all of the A.G.'s subpoena under penalty of perjury within 10 days or face another hearing and subsequent incarceration. None of Claudia's questions were answered and her common law motions were thrown out because the formatting of them did not conform to the local rules.

Claudia knew that the judge's goal was to have her arrested since that was the constant threat during the hearing. She had no intention of waiving her rights, so in order to close the whole case down, Claudia relied upon her training as Law Merchant and performed a lawful commercial process under which she issued a payment instrument with handling instructions, tendering it to the court through a notary public, thereby providing a public third party witness to the transaction. The case was to be settled and closed to the financial satisfaction of all parties. Claudia then notified the court confirming that the case had been settled and closed and therefore, the next hearing date set for March 28 was superfluous. Judge Clark dishonored the BPN, arbitrarily labeling it 'bogus', the Notary's 'Due Presentment Under Notary Seal' was declared 'legally invalid', and he ignored any other documents Claudia sent which were designed to reach an understanding between the parties. Claudia did not attend the March 28th hearing and a bench warrant was issued for criminal contempt of court -- a misapplication of the statute. A missed hearing is punishable by paying a fine, not a jail sentence.

In the late afternoon of March 29th, Claudia was abducted from her home, based on an inadequate warrant for arrest which she was not shown until after they were on their way to Dauphin County Prison, even though she had asked to see it as the officers, who refused to identify themselves, were handcuffing her. A week later, a state trooper served her at the prison, with a Criminal Complaint for tampering with public records and the intention of retaliation against a prosecutor and judicial official. The Affidavit of Probable Cause claimed that the BPN was a "judgment" in retaliation against the A.G., the Deputy A.G. and the judge. The interesting thing is, the original BPN was sent to the Prothonotary to be handled and processed privately and not filed into the public record since Claudia had success in handling a previous court matter that way. However, Prothonotary Farina was never mentioned in the Affidavit of Probable Cause even though he was one of the fiduciaries named on the BPN. Rumor has it that he does not want to be any part of what's going on, and no one can blame him for that. We never imagined that one or two of the fiduciaries would be so hell-bent on shutting us down (or destroying us) that an instrument designed to settle and close the matter to everyone's financial satisfaction would be used to damage everyone involved, including themselves as they completely ignored their fiduciary duties.

The case with the A.G. is now being appealed, but a few months after Claudia was jailed, an Administrative Demand for her release from illegal incarceration was issued. The judge, the A.G. and the warden of the prison were to answer the allegations of violations of law, statute and court rules. Apparently they didn't want to answer or were not able to without incriminating themselves, so they went into default. In an effort to give that affidavit greater legal validity, Francesca had it recorded in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. This may not have been the best course to follow, but in the absence of her mother's guidance, and being under severe emotional trauma, Francesca relied upon the suggestions of those more experienced than herself. Judge Clark took great exception to that document being recorded and not only sued Claudia, Francesca and the Recorder of Deeds in Luzerne County to have the document removed from the public record and have similar documents barred from being recorded in the future, but he also wants the court in Luzerne County to review and approve documents prior to their being recorded. This is a complete aberration of the American system of separation of judicial and administrative functions and defiles the integrity of public records. Even though it is a civil case which would do no direct harm to the Montelione women even if we were to ignore it and lose by default, we are opposing what Judge Clark is trying to do simply to preserve the rule of law. Clark has slandered us as "paper terrorists" and other pejorative labels. He had the same state trooper who swore out the criminal complaint against Claudia regarding the BPN, swear out a new criminal complaint which was the same as the first, but was expanded to include the Admin. Demand as a retaliatory document too. Additional criminal complaints were also sworn out by Trooper Grimm, charging Francesca with criminal conspiracy and the Mass. notary public who had served the BPN and the Admin. Demand with the same conspiracy charge. The "conspiracy" charge has been used by the courts since 1806 as a way to silence and stop those who are acting within their legal rights but are deemed "politically incorrect" by the 'powers that be'. Both Francesca and the Mass. notary were jailed in Dauphin County Prison, but were then bailed out. Claudia has completed the maximum sentence for the contempt of court charge (6 months), and is now out on bail on the criminal charges.

At the arraignment for the criminal charges on the 23rd of October, even though identification of the parties and issues of status and authority were not properly addressed, the Commonwealth insisted upon setting a trial date and expected Claudia, Francesca and their notary to sign a legal document entitled "ARRAIGNMENT" which had pleas of 'Not Guilty' already written in. We explained to the Ass't DA for the Commonwealth that we had just that morning supplied court officials with sworn testimony that included questions which must be answered before the court can legally proceed. As the A.D.A. explained, the "...train keeps going" and she pointed out that there are procedures within the time-frame of the trial to seek answers to questions and obtain evidence. Neither Claudia nor Francesca signed the plea papers as the names listed on them as "defendants" were incorrect. There was not a judge in sight at the arraignment which was totally handled by 'Esquires'.

Meanwhile, litigation is still going on with the Appeal, the Department of State and with Dresser Inc., as well as Judge Clark. If it were not for our 'support team' helping us with paperwork, providing respite care for Lisa, Claudia's Down Syndrome daughter, and supplying other assistance, the Monteliones would have been 'snowed under', but many people of conscience are outraged by the display of incompetence and the depths of degradation that the systems we depend upon for justice and protection have reached. Readers of TAB don't have to be told that the whole fraudulent/fictional system is crumbling before our eyes. Still, those of us with knowledge and faith can do nothing else but persevere in that which is right.

When Francesca was arrested, the state police came in; based on a search warrant attached to a flimsy Affidavit of Probable Cause which stated no criminal misdeeds as far as I could tell. Our computers were taken and other material including an envelope with our household cash, personal mail, etc. Children and Youth stepped in and if Lisa had not been strongly protected, she would have been taken too. The Commonwealth Court which is hearing the appeal on the underlying civil case, is being petitioned to have our equipment and material returned. Fortunately, we had practiced certain safety precautions so that clients/customer information has been protected and the formats and files for most of the work that we do had been duplicated. We've obtained another computer so we're able to continue our work.

I must say that, while raising my daughter to be responsible and business-minded, I never realized what a blessing that would be. Francesca was diligent in keeping my commissary and phone accounts funded, cared for her disabled sister and kept our business running through all of this commotion. Misinformation has been put out by people who should know better, to make it sound like we didn't handle the litigation or the commercial paperwork properly. Apparently, some of us are not yet fully awakened to the reality that NOTHING any of us freedom-lovers do is going to be considered correct or OK by those who are out to destroy us. Our political status was denied and the issue of jurisdiction/authority of the court was dismissed, just because the judge felt like it. No legal basis was given. My payment instrument to the court in the case with the A.G. was proper. It was the fiduciaries who misbehaved. If it were not so, they would not have to use dirty tricks to harass us, breach their oaths of office and make sure their activities stayed centered in the political cesspool of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania. Those in positions to wield the power of the jails and law enforcement are using that to dissuade those who point out that the Emperor wears no clothes. They're trying to save their own butts, but the game is just about over. It's prudent to protect ourselves however we can until the dust settles. However, the proverbial fat lady has not yet sung and payback time is soon approaching. Refreshingly, there are still members of the judiciary and 'esquire' classes who have consciences.

These times are a spiritual test for all of us. We at www.NaturallyPrudent.com and www.WebMavin.com are still here; ready to be of service to those journeying along the road less traveled. We welcome your patronage. If you have it in your heart to help us get back on our feet after the devastation that has happened to our lives and our business, and stay on our feet to complete the battles in progress, donations are gladly accepted through the link at the bottom of the "What Has Happened to Claudia?" pages on our websites above, or at The Penny Pincher Press, 301 George St., Suite #1, Throop, Pennsylvania -18512-1212.

11) CITIZEN SLOTH INDUCED IGNORANCE.

American citizens hope that the government will perform due diligence and look out for them. Most people would rather spend their time watching TV, or playing computer games, or taking drugs than studying economics or keeping abreast of world events. The average citizen, when asked on the street, or in stores, and restaurants if he or she knows what the root cause of inflation is (The government printing 'money'), or even what the population is of the country, not more than one in fifteen will know. In their naiveté, most citizens believe that the government is here to protect them, rather than the primary concern of most government operatives is to protect their own interests.

Now, in these perilous economic times, more citizens are beginning to pay attention to the political environment, as they come to see that things are getting out of control.

12) BERNANKE RAISED INTEREST RATES.

In an effort to prevent people, and especially foreign banks, from abandoning the dollar, which would quickly lead to hyperinflation, (Google: Zimbabwe inflation). Bernanke hoping to preserve a modicum of respect and value for the dollar, raised interest rates to partially offset the theft by the inflation tax. This of course popped the housing bubble, but also contributed to the collapse of the economy that Greenspan's 'froth,' and the investment bankers created.

13) THE COMMERCIAL

BANKS that are authorized to issue 'money' to other banks are (as mentioned) required to maintain a 'cash' (FRN) reserve in order to lend 'money.' Due to bad mortgage loans (and associated derivatives) caused by the collapsing housing market, many banks are under water. As a consequence, these banks do not have an adequate reserve, cannot lend 'money,' and are failing.

While many banks have no 'money' to lend, others do not want to lend to other banks—even on a short term basis—for fear that the borrowing bank may go bankrupt, sucking the lender into a black-hole of insufficient funds and bankruptcy. As a result, banks are collapsing round the world. The bailout, (in politically correct spin, 'rescue package') is an attempt to pump more Federal Reserve Notes—they call it liquidity—into various FRN starved banks. This highly inflationary practice is what has lead us to financial chaos in the first place. It is akin to giving a meth addict down in energy, more meth to reinvigorate him.

Therefore, when the term 'root cause' is used in reference to the slumping house sales, or lack of credit, and the economic meltdown that began in 2005, it is not the root cause, but rather a symptom, a branch high up on the tree. It is a over-mature tree of many branches with roots of greed, corruption, ignorance, and naive thinking rotting far below.

The Right to Travel ...Zoom-Zoom

By Richard L. Koenig

'POINT OF UNDERSTANDING'

INTRODUCTION; This first inclusion of hopefully many informative articles on 'the right to travel', a very important issue to a 'Free-thinking People' seeking freedom from misapplied statutes by money-hungry corporate government... better buckle-up!

I'm CONVICTED! Yes, I pled "no contest" to the "fourth count" of telephonic harassment thus ending a criminal proceeding that has spread out over more than a year and a half in the Circuit Court of Marion County. Well, maybe I'm convicted.

Early in the legislative session of 2007, and once toward the end, I made an outreach to offices in the state capitol for help finding the Legislative Act that amends the 1911 Motor Vehicle Laws in which the first sentence describes the regulated persons as "drivers for hire", to now include "the general public". Senator Katherine Brown, through her personal attorney, had promised to authorize Legislative Counsel to send me this amendment in August 2004. As a result of my outreach, I was charged with the criminal offense of "seeking information", under the telephonic harassment statutes at ORS 166.090. Several legislative staff members had been contacted, one referring me to another, resulting in separate charges. The fourth one was caught on tape, and "bad words" were recorded as I was hung up on.

I will concede that I had been attempting to find out what happened to the amendment Senator Brown assured me she would have Legislative Counsel send for some time. For my efforts, a gentleman named David Henderson, who is paid staff of the Legislative Administration Committee, and even runs a research library for the benefit of the public and the Legislative Assembly, wrote to me, threatening prosecution if I called or visited the state capitol during the 2007 legislative session. His thought was that "there is no one here who can help you [find that law]".

As the criminal proceeding progressed, I had the great idea to ask Dave's boss, Senator Peter Courtney, President of the Senate and also member of the Legislative Administration Committee, if Dave had his knowledge and consent to threaten me with arrest and prosecution for "seeking information", which, after all, is a law that ostensibly compels the performance of all of us who use our cars in the course of our daily lives. My operating "theory" is that if our legislators make a law compelling our performance, we get to see it, so we can decide whether to obey or petition for redress. I hoped Senator Courtney would share my sentiments.

I didn't get to Senator Courtney. The staff person who happened to be picking up the phone in his office, was one of the gals that I had previously been charged with telephonically harassing, so she decided, with a little urging from someone else in the room to hang up on me, and then she called the cops. Thus, a fifth count of telephonic harassment was added April 28th, 2008, almost a year after the written prohibition against my "seeking information" had ended.

On October 14th, 2008, I understood that I was scheduled to meet with Marion County Circuit Court Judge, Linn Ashcroft, to work out some communication problems existing between me and my attorney. Turns out that what Judge Ashcroft was up for, was a settlement conference. I had been pretty easy, as far as being ready to settle, for some time. An offer to plead guilty and go directly to jail in exchange for the law that says the general public has to have a driver license had been on the table for months. Judge Ashcroft had recently been assigned to this case and seemed to take a personal interest in the unusual application of the telephonic harassment statutes and my willingness to go to jail if I could have the law, which he agreed was pretty much owed to me (and all of us).

During a head to head negotiation between Judge Ashcroft and myself, we agreed that if I would plead "no contest" to the fourth count, he would write a letter to the Attorney General's Office asking that I be provided with the law that says the general public has to obey the same rules as a motor vehicle operator. Judge Ashcroft even agreed that I could draft the letter he would put on his letterhead and address it to the attorney of my choosing. I asked for, but Judge Ashcroft didn't think he could swing it, the Attorney General's response being printed in the hard bound "Attorney General's Opinions". The object of the negotiation seemed to be to keep this case from going up for appellate review. Judge Ashcroft explicitly said that if it turned out that the conviction is "manifestly unfair", in the absence of any evidence required to convict, that I would have other post conviction relief options.

He was convinced that prosecutor, Amy Queen would not let go of the fourth count because she had me on tape using "bad words". It turns out that the previous telephonic harassment law had been voided by a Supreme Court ruling to the effect that, as written, the law impaired the constitutional right of speech. The current law is not dependant on the speech of the caller, but on the caller's intent to harass or annoy, thus the "bad words" are not "evidence", in and of themselves, of telephonic harassment.

Judge Ashcroft cut the prosecutor's recommendation of probation in half, and gave me the option to, at any time during probation (if I don't have the judgment vacated), do a minimum stint of community service OR pay the minimum fine. He said he would put my letter on his letter head and send it to me and my attorney for review and approval before sending to the Attorney General's Office (I chose Chief Deputy Peter D. Shepherd). That created a unique situation in which I continue to have counsel (who Judge Ashcroft had previously ruled, is the same as "assistance of counsel" pursuant to the Sixth Amendment of the federal constitution, so that "the defendant may appear by himself and with counsel" pursuant to Article I, Section 11 of the Oregon Constitution).

Normally as soon as settlement is reached, court appointed counsel ceases. Tomorrow will be two weeks to the day since Judge Ashcroft received my draft letter, and I have no indication of when I might expect it. Did I mention that the settlement conference was between nine and eleven am, October 14th, and I agreed to, and did have the draft letter back in the Judge's office after lunch the same day?

What Judge Ashcroft didn't know before he got my draft letter, was that in February of 2004, Peter Shepherd had been served with a LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING resulting from a couple of public record law demands I made. The demands for a law requiring the licensing of the general public to use the highway and to title and register their vehicles were responded to by the Chief Deputy Attorney General, who wrote: "The public record law does not require a public body to create a record". The LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING merely simplified his responses to the more common language, "the legislature has not enacted".

The draft letter to Mr. Shepherd suggests that for his convenience, if no law exists compelling the performance of the general public in the same manner as motor vehicle operators, that he should merely endorse and stamp with the seal of his office the LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING that he received from Mr. Richard L. Koenig in February 2004.

Any bets on whether I'll have the perpetual assistance of counsel who can't get off my case until Judge Ashcroft sends the letter for review and approval? Am I convicted yet, if Judge Ashcroft hasn't fulfilled his end of the bargain? There will be more on this later. Hopefully a signed and sealed LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING from Chief deputy Attorney General, Peter D. Shepherd.

RIGHTS ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ?

Submitted by:
Vanessa Fimbres

I just recently was surf in through the net and came across some excerpt from the late George Carlin on his “its bad for you” sheal. I have to appreciate him and other comedians continue to drill the truth into everyone with the use of laughter. There was one piece of this cite that was of particular note: his rant on rights. Amongst all the world’s chaos, crises, and concerns, the one thing that few seem to notice, or care about, is our very own rights. Carlin goes in depth on the rights of a people, and the people that formulate these rights. WARNING: I did not censor any content, especially quotations. Every word has its meaning and its use, and in order to accurately express the true emotion in thought requires, at times, words that convey even the harshest tone. If you reject anyone or anything that contains “dirty words” then I have replaced some descriptive phrases with handy dandy astrict’s (*). And now...without further ado: GEORGE CARLIN!!! (Applause) “Boy everyone in this country is running around yammering about their fing rights. “I have a right, you have no right, we have a right.” Folks I hate to spoil your fun, but... there’s no such thing as rights. They’re imaginary. We made ‘em up. Like the boogie man. Like Three Little Pigs, Pinocchio, Mother Goose, st like that. Rights are an idea. They’re just imaginary. They’re a cute idea. Cute. But that’s all. Cute...and fictional. But if you think you do have rights, let me ask you this, “where do they come from?” People say, “They come from God. They’re God given rights.” Awww *, here we go again...here we go again. The God excuse, the last refuge of a man with no answers and no argument, “It came from God.” Anything we can’t describe must have come from God. Personally folks, I believe that if your rights came from God, he would’ve given you the right for some food every day, and he would’ve given you the right to a roof over your head. GOD would’ve been looking out for ya. You know that. He wouldn’t have been worried making sure you have a gun so you can get drunk on Sunday night and kill your girlfriend’s parents.

But let’s say it’s true. Let’s say that God gave us these rights. Why would he give us a certain number of rights? The Bill of Rights of this country has 10 stipulations. OK...10 rights. And apparently God was doing sloppy work that week, because we’ve had to amend the bill of rights an additional 17 times. So God forgot a couple of things, like... SLAVERY. Just fin’ slipped his mind. But let’s say...let’s say God gave us the original 10. He gave the British 13. The British Bill of Rights has 13 stipulations. The Germans have 29, the Belgians have 25, the Swedish have only 6, and some people in the world have no rights at all. What kind of a bologna and did not apply in any cases, criminal or civil, it just doesn’t apply. He insisted that the US is not a foreign corporation... it’s a government, that the citizens are not fictions, the plaintiffs are not fictions, common law courts don’t exist. BUT he couldn’t answer any of my questions.

After 2 hours of conversation, the attorney finally said to me, “you’re not buying any of this are you?” I said “why should I? You’re an attorney, you’re paid to lie, cheat and steal, maybe that’s not what YOU do, but attorneys are members of the BAR, the British Accredited Registry. They are all foreign agents working for the Crown of England. They are here to rape, pillage and plunder the wealth of the American people under the foreign corporation that calls itself the ‘United States’ (Inc.). That’s why they pay taxes, they’re paying taxes to my government, the Republic and to me as a Sovran creditor floating their bankruptcy!” He just looked at me and said nothing else.
On a side note, he was very proud to be a Mason! He said that ¾ of the attorneys and ¾ of the doctors are Masons and that all judges are Masons.
On the 10th of September there was another “docket sounding hearing”. The defense attorney was late but the prosecuting attorney was polite to me while waiting. After the hearing, the defendant’s attorney told me “Scott, the STATE OF FLORIDA wants nothing more to do with you. They just want this case over and done with.”!
The hearing for the motion to dismiss the charges was held on September 11th. Before the hearing, the defendant’s and prosecuting attorney spoke. Meanwhile, I called the paralegal. I told her that I found it odd that the prosecuting attorney was actually trying to be nice to me. She said “that’s because she and the state are holding a hell of a lot of liability for this matter and they’re scared to death you’re going to pursue it. She’s got liability all over her butt, State of Florida is highly concerned, as you can come back at them for false arrest and false imprisonment.” I mentioned “your boss told me they want nothing to do with me. Could it be that $600 million I tendered to settle that they dishonored and are now stuck paying the taxes on?” and she said, “that’s a big part of it too!” I said “that’s a $600 Million tax refund to me” and she said “I know it is.” Surprised that she knew this, I asked “do you know about the 1099OID’s?” She said “yes!” “Then you know that if I fill out the 1040 tax form as the Creditor, that I get a refund?” She said “Yes!” I said “how do you know this?” “I used to work for the IRS...” So the STATE OF FLORIDA has a $600 Million dollar taxable income event, they owe tax on, can’t get out of it and want nothing more to do with me!

Before the hearing, the defendant’s attorney wanted me to sign a stipulation from THE STATE. He pointed out that the prosecuting attorney had listed me as “agent”, not defendant. I think she finally realized who I was, the Creditor. The case was dismissed because there were no liens. This was a graceful way for STATE OF FLORIDA to save face on the PUBLIC record.
In summary, it would appear that I have finally established myself as creditor in this system. My instinct tells me that “the feds” know who I am and have know for many years. I’ve had a UCC1 recorded since 2003, I have a B.C. Bond with the Treasury and 1.5 Billion in private discharging and indemnity bonds registered with the Treasury. Under Treasury Rule 99, the Treasury has to tell me if there is defect in my instrument and give me an opportunity to correct any errors. I have never received any thing back from the Treasury. I have tendered millions in negotiable instruments (all have been stolen by the Payee!) over the last five years. I have registered with the Treasury and the IRS that I am not a “U.S. Citizen” on a Form W-8BEN with my version of Declaration of Living man. With the exception of Public Policy (which I need in order to function as a creditor), all other adhesion contracts have been terminated. I believe the feds aren’t touching me because they know that I know who I am and they know that I am a Creditor. Even the Department of Homeland Security did not come to question me about the instruments tendered. They took my word, the word of an established creditor, that the STATE OF FLORIDA had in their possession $600 million of their funds.

The State of Florida had to figure it out on their own. It’s a hard lesson to learn because the State of Florida is stuck with owing my bank, the Department of the Treasury $600 million plus interest and 40% corporate taxes, which is about $240 Million. Now, if they had just done what they were supposed to do with the gift of $600 Million dollars then all would be fine. Pay the $240 million in taxes and you get to keep the remaining amount ... but they didn’t do that.
I am not certain but I believe that Homeland Security became involved because when transactions go over a certain amount and are reported to IRS CID then it’s considered as ‘money laundering’. Are not all the courts involved in money laundering. They’re cooking the books on the off-balance sheets and only reporting taxable income to the IRS of the fines, fees and court costs, etc. they’re collecting. [And now you know more than you did 20 minutes ago!]

venue tribunal, under threat, duress and coercion but more importantly, in violation of their/our sovereignty. All this... so-called alleged burglary, for entering their own Property.
The STATE OF HAWAII by and through several of their agents and officers are all intertwined, connected and who have all continued to impose a conspired agenda of prejudicial, malicious and wonton reckless actions in their ongoing blatant discrimination against the Majesties, his Cabinet Members and Royal Guards, federal Marshal, the Kanaka Maoli people, Hawaiian aboriginals, Hawaiian Nationals and most recent and immediately have affected his and her Majesty’s and subjects within The Kingdom of Hawaii Nation and those who remain under the sovereign authority of King Akahi Nui of the Hawaiian Islands.
In a letter I sent to the Council for the Defense of Human Rights and Freedoms, I state how our world, our people and the Sovereign Kingdom of Hawai’i Nation have been subjected to involuntary servitude and a regime that is only concerned in keeping the people subjugated to policies, laws and codes to extract revenue and leaving the people as mere subjects without rights and being forced under pains and penalties to recognize the STATE OF HAWAII, INC., a mere de-facto Corporation as having omnipotent power and authority over the rights and lives of the people basically stated, we as a people have succumbed and supported a system that is no longer sensitive to people, but to non people--to corporations, to money and to power. The letter also included short explanation of the intertwined conspirators who are all officers, agents and assigns of the STATE CORPORATION that calls itself THE STATE OF HAWAII (INC.). ALL of these Agents and Assigns of the STATE have ALL taken an OATH OF OFFICE to DEFEND AND UPHOLD THE CONSTITUTION FOR THE UNITED STATES and THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII, however, ALL Conspirators are in violation of their oath of office and are blatantly violating the un-alien-able God given rights of the people of the Kingdom of Hawai’i Nation through their continuing conspired agenda of prejudicial, malicious, wanton reckless actions and ongoing blatant acts of discrimination.
The STATE OF HAWAII, INC. government indeed has no intent to protect the rights of the Kanaka Maoli, the Hawaiian Nationals or any of the Kingdom of Hawaii subjects who remain under and within the jurisdiction of the Kingdom of Hawaii, as history and present actions have shown and continue to prove. The STATE OF HAWAII, INC., government has but one purpose, as it remains today, the disengagement of these inhabitants from society as it continues to strip them of any and all God given rights and freedoms from birth and later as stated in the Constitution for the State of Hawaii article 12 section 7 which all conspirators have blatantly violated.
As far as the alleged “charges” and the current status of the alleged so called case brought forth by the STATE OF HAWAII ATTORNEY GENERALS OFFICE, MARK MIYAHIRA DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL and the “Information” provided by HENRY NOBRIGA, SPECIAL AGENT FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERALS OFFICE; THE STATE OF HAWAII, INC., has failed and refused to bring forward proof of their authority, have failed to prove subject matter jurisdiction and in personum jurisdiction of the matter and parties hereto. The STATE OF HAWAII has failed to prove it has a superior Title to Hawaiian Island lands and the Iolani Palace and without said proof continues its onslaught of our rights and continues it malicious miscarriage of justice as a tyrant.

All of these facts have been raised and given by Judicial Notice and Declaration. Each Judge of this Foreign De-facto Tribunal has been made aware of the facts and each judge has chosen to deliberately ignore the ramifications of such judicial misconduct and criminal activity. Both the STATES ATTORNEY GENERALS OFFICE and the so-called courts of the STATE OF HAWAII have failed and refused to prove jurisdiction and title in this matter and therefore are committing fraud and treason against the Kingdom of Hawai’i.
Of course our challenge here, as the Kingdom of Hawaii Nation and as the appointed Consul to represent said Kingdom, is to demonstrate that we can still be a nation, a sovereign government and a country where the rights of the individual, despite their race, color, and religion, remain supreme. And if we as a people allow this to be not so, then we are all lost. If this is not so, it is because we have forgotten the lessons of our histories, the history of Hawai’i as a Sovereign Nation as well as the history of the American Revolution, we have forgotten the country’s and people that have stood, sacrificed and committed their lives to defend and protect their right to be free from the bonds of servitude and to exercise rights freely determined by a people implementing the right of self-determination ... and in this case, by the Kingdom of Hawai’i Nation to further our dignity, prosperity and liberty.
All of the confirming facts surrounding the legitimacy of His Majesty Akahi Nui and Akahi Wahine as King and Queen of the Hawaiian Islands was given and presented to ABC’s Anchorman Reporter Drew Millhon of Good Morning America Weekend Edition during an interview in front of the Iolani Palace in Honolulu Hawaii, on October 6, 2008. When Good Morning Americas Drew Millhon called to arrange an interview he stated it would be extensive, up to three hours of interviewing and on sovereignty issues. In reality the interview was approximately 30 minutes, Mr. Millhon was shown, Certified Deeds, Titles and as I said before the “Scroll of the Royal family’s Lineage”. He was also shown a very rare and unique document kept in a 5” thick protected binder that has only been brought out on one other occasion, the actual Original Sealed Trust of King Kamahameha that clearly identifies “Akahi” as the DIRECT LINEAL DESCENT of the late Great King excluding all accusations of being “self proclaimed” and confirming that Majesty Akahi Nui is the King of the Hawaiian Islands. He is who he says he is.
Mr. Millhon was also given a copy of the “Financing Statements” securing the Royal Families Interest in not only the Iolani Palace (a $500 Million Dollar Security Interest) but also the infamous Financing Statement filed in mid 2007 on the Islands of Hawaii (a $100 Trillion Dollar Security Interest). With all this self evident documentation given to Mr. Millhon he managed to, in the 30 second air time, in which the Majesties ultimately received when this piece was aired, was able to cause defamation of character, discourteous and flat out disrespectful statements and actions regarding His Majesty and Her Highness. First of all he called them a “Radical Recession Group”, he referred to them by first names that were legally changed almost

New President, New Constitution, New Bill of Rights

By Brad O’Leary

Is there a better way for America? Is that grand freedom experiment our Founding Fathers so carefully scripted in the Constitution old hat? Evidently, Barack Obama thinks so. Obama plans to radically reinterpret our founding document, turning it into a state manifesto complete with a second Bill of Rights.

In an interview with a Chicago public radio station, Obama complained that “the Supreme Court [which was created by our Founding Fathers in the Constitution] never ventured into the issues of redistribution of wealth and sort of more basic issues of political and economic justice in this society.” Obama went on to explain that the Constitution, in his view, was a “charter of negative liberties.”

Obama expounded, “It says what the states can’t do to you, it says what the federal government can’t do to you, but it doesn’t say what the federal government or the state government must do on your behalf.”

Given his remarks, it is clear that an Obama presidency will not “preserve, protect and defend the Constitution,” rather, it will change the Constitution to suit his ideology – an ideology that is far different from the one held by our Founding Fathers.

Recently, Obama surrogate and U.S. congresswoman, Marcy Kaptur (D-OH), fired-up a crowd before Obama took the stage, telling them that America needed a second

Bill of Rights that gives all Americans state guarantees of welfare.

Indeed, this need for a second Bill of Rights, one that guarantees welfare from the state, is something that Obama’s long-time Constitutional advisor, Cass Sunstein, has advocated. In his book, The Second Bill of Rights: FDR’s Unfinished Revolution and Why We Need it Now More Than Ever, Sunstein writes that “all legal rights are, or aspire to be, welfare rights.” Sunstein believes that “if the nation becomes committed to certain rights, they may migrate into the Constitution itself.”

For an example of how welfare rights “migrate” into a Constitution, one need only look at Venezuela and examine the handy work of Dictator Hugo Chavez. Like Obama, Chavez relied on community organizing for his rise to power. Chavez’s revolution depended upon the organization of the poor into powerful institutions, which Chavez called the “tools for building socialism.”

When Obama served as chairman of the Chicago Annenberg Challenge, he and Bill Ayers helped fund and develop what they called “Local School Councils.” These Local School Councils are very similar to the program Chavez implemented to control teachers and education in Venezuela and create an authoritarian regime that tramples free speech and free enterprise.

Just two years ago, Ayers (Obama’s former boss) stood next to Chavez at the World Education Forum in Caracas and praised “the political educational reforms underway here in Venezuela under the leadership of President Chavez.” Ayers continued: “I look forward to seeing how...all of you continue to overcome the failures of capitalist education as you seek to create something truly new.” Ayers and Obama tried to undo this “capitalist education” in Chicago, and now, Obama is taking their crusade to America’s national stage.

Chavez was elected by promising the same redistributionist policies for which Obama is now calling. Just as an illusory Obama is depending upon an uninformed American electorate, Venezuelans did not fully realize the extent of government expansion Chavez had in mind.

Once elected, Chavez pushed through vast socialist policies including the redistribution of property, taxing the rich, nationalizing industries and rewriting the Venezuelan constitution. Venezuelans never knew what hit them.

Like Chavez, Obama’s redistributive economic plan is copied directly from a manifesto written by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, which states, “From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs.” Or, as Obama has rewritten it, the need to “spread the wealth around.” Marx, Engels and Obama believe in state guarantees of welfare, not the God-given right of freedom.

As Chavez is continuing to rewrite Venezuela’s constitution to cater to his socialist ideology, Obama is cautiously setting the stage for a complete overhaul of the very document that has guaranteed our freedoms for over 200 years.

Obama has long championed policies that promote a secular society, and the best way for him to achieve a secular society is to elevate the state to the level of God. Whereas the Constitution of our Founding Fathers guarantees God-given rights, Obama’s new Constitution would create state guarantees to welfare. In such a society, citizens would no longer look to God and the Constitution for their freedom, but rather, look to paternal government for their rations of bread, clothing and housing.

Chavez’s “permanent revolution” and Obama’s policies are promoted under the guise of charity and fairness, but will result in equal opportunity misery and disaster. This is Obama’s true vision for change.

We Americans are very fortunate. Even as we find ourselves in the throes of geopolitical instability and an economic downturn, our core remains strong. Our economic system is already proving, as it has proven so many times in the past, to be the most resilient in the world. We owe this to the fundamental beliefs enshrined in the Constitution.

While it may take America some time to recover economically, recover we will. And we will recover faster than Europe, Russia, or China because these nations don’t protect their citizens’ God-given rights to freedom, and thus, free enterprise and free speech.

However, should Obama become President and replace our God-given rights with his state guarantees in a new Constitution and Bill of Rights, America’s resiliency will evaporate.

Open Letter To Governor Sarah Palin About Diet Dr. Pepper

By Carol Guilford

Dear Governor Palin, Congratulations on your nomination for the vice-presidential office of the United States of America.

I read diet Dr. Pepper is your drink of choice. (<http://tinyurl.com/6zgzu9>)

The bad news is that diet drinks, including diet Dr. Pepper are sweetened with the lethal, artificial (chemical) sweetener, aspartame (Equal,NutraSweet).

The good news is that with your obvious grit and determination, you can kick the habit, although the 10% methanol (wood alcohol) in the aspartame molecule is highly addictive. Free methanol without the ethanol provided by nature in orange juice or tomato juice, according to a 1998 study by C. Trocho, et al of the University of Barcelona Department of Molecular Biology converts to formaldehyde (embalming fluid) and collects in the liver and in the fatty tissue. (www.presidiotex.com/barcelona/index.html)

50% of the aspartame molecule is phenylalanine, an amino acid that must always be connected to the other 19 amino acids in nature in order to be safe. Phenylalanine in aspartame also covertos to diketopiperazine (DKP), a tumor agent.

40% of the aspartame molecule is aspartic acid. Dr. John Olney tried to tell patent owners, Searle Laboratories (in the 1970’s) aspartic acid caused holes in the brains of mice, but they were not interested. In 1996, when Dr. Olney linked aspartame to brain tumors on CBS “60 Minutes”, he was media-blitzed by the powerful aspartame industry.

Most important of all, if your pregnant daughter drinks diet soda, you need to know, in 1987, at a Hearing before the Committee on Labor and Human Resources, examining the health and safety concerns of NutraSweet (Aspartame), geneticist, Dr. Louis J. Elsas testified: “In the developing fetus such a rise in maternal blood phenylalanine could be magnified four to six fold by the concentrative efforts of the placenta and fetal blood brain barrier. The effect of such an increased fetal brain concentration in vivo would probably be much more subtle and expressed as mental retardation, microcephaly, or potential certain birth defects. In the rapidly growing post-natal brain (children of 0-12 months) irreversible brain damage could occur by the same mechanism.”

Twenty years after the Senate hearing, statistics show before aspartame was approved, in 1981, 1 in 1500 newborn babies were diagnosed with autism and today, in 2008, the number of autistic infants is 1 in 150.

In 1993, the FDA revealed, under the Freedom of Information Act, 92 symptoms caused by aspartame from headache to vision loss to death, a list compiled from thousands of consumer complaints. (www.presidiotex.com/92symptoms)

Why is aspartame still on the market? Tires have been recalled for less. If you are elected, perhaps you can ask Monsanto Chemical Company or Merisant, purveyors of Equal.

Do you have unexplained headaches you attribute to stress? Is your vision getting worse? Do you have sleep problems or change in heart rate? When flying in an airplane, many victims (there are, at all times, 1,000 members on the Yahoo Aspartame Victims Support Group) experience rapid heart beat.

Does diet Dr. Pepper cause cancer? Last year, Dr. Morando Soffritti, head of the Ramazzini Cancer Institute, in Bologna, Italy released the results of his 8-year rat study, proving conclusively aspartame is a multi-carcinogenic agent, especially indicating increased lymphoma and leukemia in the female. (<http://www.ehponline.org/docs/2005/8711/abstract.html>)

On April 23, 2007, Morando Soffritti, MD was honored with the Irving J. Selikoff Award at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York. Dr. Soffritti’s lecture that day was, “The carcinogenicity of aspartame: the lessons we still must learn.”

The core of the anti-aspartame movement is a group who know the truth and continue to share it, across all international borders, through the Internet.

THE ANT & THE GRASSHOPPER

OLD VERSION: The ant works hard in the withering heat all summer long, building his house and laying up supplies for the winter. The grasshopper thinks the ant is a fool and laughs and dances and plays the summer away. Come winter, the ant is warm and well fed. The grasshopper has no food or shelter, so he dies out in the cold. MORAL OF THE STORY: Be responsible for yourself!

MODERN VERSION: The any works hard in the withering heat all summer long, building his house and laying up supplies for the winter. The grasshopper thinks the any is a fool and dances and plays the summer away. Come winter the shivering grasshopper calls a press conference and demands to know why the ant should be allowed to be warm and well fed while others are cold and starving.

CBS, NBC, PBS, CNN and ABC show up to provide pictures of the shivering grasshopper next to a video of the ant in his comfortable home with a table filled with food. America is stunned by the sharp contrast.

How can this be, that in a country of such wealth, this poor grasshopper is allowed to suffer so?

Kermit the Frog appears on Oprah with the grasshopper and everybody cries when they sing, “It’s Not Easy Being Green.” Jesse Jackson stages a demonstration in front of the ant’s house where the news stations film the group singing, “We Shall Overcome”. Jesse then has the group kneel down to pray to God for the grasshopper’s sake.

Nancy Pelosi and John Kerry exclaim in an interview with Larry King that the ant has gotten rich off of the back of the grasshopper, and both call for an immediate tax hike on the any to make him pay his fair share.

Finally, the EEOC drafts the Economic Equity & Anti-Grasshopper Act retroactive to the beginning of the summer.

The ant is fined for failing to hire a proportionate number of green bugs and, having nothing left to pay his retroactive taxes, his home is confiscated by the government.

Hillary Clinton gets her old law firm to represent the grasshopper in a defamation suit against the ant and the case is tried before a panel of federal judges that Bill Clinton appointed for a list of single parent welfare recipients. The ant loses the case.

The story ends as we see the grasshopper finishing up the last bits of the ant’s food while the government house he is in, which just happens to be the ant’s old house, crumbles around him because he doesn’t maintain it.

The ant has disappeared in the snow, the grasshopper is found dead in a drug related incident and the house, now abandoned, is taken over by a gang of spiders who terrorize the once peaceful neighborhood.

MORAL OF THE STORY: Be careful how you vote in 2008.

CAVATE; Those who register to vote, are bound to the outcome and liability per the majority vote.

Economic Collapse: The Financial Death of the U.S. Empire

By Doug Badow

The American empire is kaput. Neither John McCain nor Barack Obama realizes that fact yet, but the myth of the omnipotent unipower, the essential nation, the country which declares that what it says goes, has been exposed to all. The Iraq debacle sullied Washington's reputation, but did not destroy the illusion of American indispensability. Assorted politicians, like McCain and Obama, promised to restore US primacy, either through more bluster or better diplomacy. But the financial crash has wrecked the economic basis of America's imperial pretensions. Washington simply can't afford to attempt to run the world any longer.

The US stock market has dropped 2500 points in 9 days. Trillions of dollars in wealth disappeared as the Dow lost six years worth of growth. The Bush administration and Congress have tossed ever increasing amounts of money at failing firms, hoping to appease the economic gods, rather as the ancient Canaanites sacrificed children to Baal. But the markets refuse to be appeased, and financial contagion has circled the globe.

Even before the economic crisis spiraled out of control, the US government was effectively broke. The national debt currently stands at $9.8 trillion, up $4 trillion (about 72 percent) since George W. Bush took office. With the pre-bail-out federal deficit in 2009 expected to hit a half trillion dollars, earlier this year Congress upped the debt ceiling to $10.6 trillion. But truly frightening are the many liabilities yet to come due. Uncle Sam is an extraordinary wastral and soft touch, like the person who cosigns notes for relatives, buys rounds of drinks for his friends, and promises everyone he knows that he'll take care of them.

The federal government makes loans and loan guarantees for most any purpose known to man or woman – education, energy research, housing, agricultural land, airlines, veterans, and more. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is billions of dollars short of the reserves necessary to cover expected bank losses. Washington is on the hook for generous pensions for its own workers as well as billions of dollars in guarantees of pensions for private workers whose companies fail. Then there's Medicare and Social Security, which together have an unfunded liability – that is, promised benefits exceeding expected revenues – of more than $100 trillion. No one knows where the money is going to come from to pay all of these bills, but that hasn't stopped Congress from continuing to expand benefits. In 2003 the Republican Congress and Republican president created the Medicare drug benefit without bothering to figure out how to pay for it, adding trillions of dollars more to the system's unfunded liabilities.

Now the government's liabilities are going up again, as Congress and the administration spend wildly in an attempt to revitalize the economy. Indeed, the administration and Congress apparently are prepared to bankrupt America to save American business. So far this year they have spent: $850 billion for the Wall Street bailout plus the financial "sweeteners" needed to buy enough votes for passage; $300 billion to bail out the housing industry largely through the Federal Housing Administration; $200 billion in Federal Reserve loans to commercial banks; $200 billion (and probably more) to bail out and essentially nationalize the political piggy banks Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac; $144 billion or more to buy mortgage-backed securities through Fannie and Freddie (yes, the same entities being bailed out by Uncle Sam because of their upon debt, America's financial problems will cascade. In May the Congressional Budget Office warned: "Budget deficits that grow faster than the economy ultimately become unsustainable. As the government attempts to finance its interest payments by issuing more debt, the rise in deficits accelerates. That, in turn, leads to a vicious circle in which the government issues ever-larger amounts of debt in order to pay ever-higher interest charges. In the end, the costs of servicing the debt outstrip the economic past purchases of bad debt); $87 billion to repay JPMorgan Chase for financing Lehman Brothers trades; $85 billion for a loan to bail out and effectively nationalize insurer American International Group; $50 billion to guarantee money market funds; $37.8 billion in a second loan to AIG, $29 billion to finance the buyout of Bear Stearns; $25 billion in loans to the auto industry, which continues to sink as demand for cars falls; $10 billion in direct Treasury Department purchases of mortgage-backed securities; $4 billion in mortgage community grants.

That's $2 trillion, which is real money even in Washington. It's even more to the American people, running about $18,000 per household. Some, and hopefully much, of that money eventually will be repaid. But don't hold your breath. And the bailouts aren't over. Just two business days after Congress approved the $700 billion buy of bad securities and any other assets desired by the Treasury Secretary, the Federal Reserve announced that it may purchase unsecured short-term corporate debt. If so, the Fed will be directly lending to the firms in the biggest financial trouble with no security; we all know how that is likely to end. Moreover, the Treasury Department says it wants to "directly strengthen the balance sheet of individual institutions" by acting like a common investor and buying an equity stake in companies. Treasury also is considering taking a formal ownership position in US banks, giving them cash directly. The Fed then cut interest rates, even though its ongoing policy of cheap, easy money is one of the primary causes of the boom that just went bust.

As Congress and the president continue to pile debt resources available for financing those expenditures. At some point, then, policy has to change: Taxes must be raised, spending must be reduced, or both."

With the post-bailout 2009 budget deficit now expected to run around one trillion dollars, Uncle Sam may soon have to worry about who is going to buy all of this debt. Will the Chinese continue purchasing securities from a financially irresponsible entity that keeps adding obligations with no obvious means of paying? Will Americans want to take on the increasingly risky paper? Will they be able to afford to do so?

Earlier this year – before the tsunami of federal bailouts covering anyone even walking near Wall Street – Moody's Investors Services announced that it was considering downgrading federal bonds, citing the government's failure to fund Social Security and Medicare. "These two programs are the largest threats to the long-term financial health of the United States and to the governments' AAA rating," Moody's Vice President Steven Hess explained. Tom Lemmon, also of Moody's, warned that "the underlying credit rating of the US government faces the risk of downgrading in the next ten years if solutions are not found to our growing Medicare and Social Security unfunded obligations." Lowering the investment rating for US debt would hike federal expenditures even more.

As credit dries up and the US economy stalls, how can Washington continue to engage in social engineering the world over? The Iraq war continues. Nearly $600 billion so far has been wasted on Bush's folly, and the total cost will exceed $2 trillion, according to the Congressional Budget Office, and maybe $3 trillion or even more, if Joseph Stiglitz's and Linda Bilmes's numbers come true. Getting out now would cut the expense, but many of the costs are impossible to escape, such as the expense of caring for America's grievously wounded, which will stay with us throughout their lifetimes.

Then there are Washington's other military activities. America accounts for roughly half of the globe's military outlays. The US maintains nearly 800 military bases and other facilities around the world. In 2009 Uncle Sam will be spending roughly $515 billion on "normal" military operations – more, in real terms, that at any time since World War II. That means Americans now are spending more per year to patrol the globe than they spent to fight the Cold War, Korean War, and Vietnam War.

But that's not including Iraq and Afghanistan, which together cost roughly $12 billion a month. Toss in those costs and include some money for unexpected contingencies, and we're talking $700 billion. That's the amount of the Wall Street bailout, but an expense that will continue year after year.

It's one thing to act like the global dominatrix when the country is living on easy street, enjoying record economic growth and government revenue. But as the economy is crashing and Uncle Sam will soon have to visit the equivalent of global loan sharks to finance its operations, the time for the pretention of international hegemony is over.

Why are over-burdened US taxpayers expected to defend the Europeans, who have a larger collective economy and population, from nonexistent threats? Yes, the government in Moscow has an ugly edge, but Vladimir Putin is not the reincarnation of Joseph Stalin and there will be no Red Army dash through Germany and France and on to the Atlantic. And if that was a possibility, then why shouldn't the Europeans sacrifice a little more of their abundant wealth to defend against it? In fact, with the financial crisis hitting Europe as well, military spending there is likely to drop. Observed Mark Stoker of the International Institute for Strategic Studies in London, "I can't see defense is going to escape any kind of austerity measures. It would be very difficult for any government to justify cutting health and education in favor of, say, building two aircraft carriers and buying a load of planes to stick on them." Surely the US shouldn't be subsidizing Europe if those nations spend even less on their own defense. What they spend for the military obviously is their decision to make, but they should bear the full consequences of whatever decision they do make.

Even worse, why should Washington take on the role of protecting former pieces of the Soviet Union and even the Russian empire? We should wish the Baltic States, Georgia, and Ukraine well. But they never counted as a security interest to America. Just how much US money and blood should be spent to guarantee Georgia's right to suppress secessionists and settle a century-old feud to its satisfaction? If Europe believes this to be an important goal, wonderful. Let the Europeans spend the money and take the risks necessary to make it happen.

It is equally nonsensical for America to continue subsidizing the defense of Japan, which has the second or third largest economy in the world, depending on the measure used. Yet it spends less than one percent of its GDP on defense, a quarter of America's burden. The ongoing economic crisis is a good time to tell Tokyo: you're a big country now, so defend yourself and your region.

The same goes for South Korea. It possesses one of the largest economies in the world and has 40 times the GDP of its decrepit northern antagonist. A majority of younger South Koreans say they fear America more than North Korea. Why are nearly 26,000 US troops still on station there? Bring them home and demobilize them, while the Republic of Korea takes over responsibility for its own defense.

South Korea has matured. It should act like it and take on "adult" international responsibilities.

Finally, it's time for Washington to give up on nation-building. Social engineering is difficult enough at home. It's well-nigh impossible for outsiders, especially naïve and ignorant – even if well-intentioned Americans, to transcend history, tradition, geography, religion, ethnicity, and culture to remake other societies. Iraq has been a catastrophe. We've been trying to fix Haiti for more than a century.

Arresting warlords in Somalia was one of Washington's dumbest ideas. Neither Bosnia nor Kosovo are real countries, despite years of American attention.

And, to be perfectly blunt, who cares if they become real countries? We should be concerned about the mistreatment of people everywhere. But Washington has demonstrated no competence in setting foreign nations right, and ivory tower humanitarians have no right to risk the lives of our brave servicemen and women in the name of a glorious crusade for democracy in Mesopotamia, the Balkans, Caribbean, Africa, or anywhere else. War truly must be a last resort, which means no resort at all unless American society truly is at risk in some fundamental way. No wars of choice or convenience, no matter how easy and cheap they appear likely to be.

The American economy will eventually recover from its current trauma. But the myth of US omnipotence likely is shattered forever. Over the last six years the US has tossed away its moral superiority, diplomatic indispensability, and military infallibility. Now it has lost its economic security. Washington is broke, having made a succession of financial promises the country can ill afford to cover.

There was never a good time for empire. But if there ever was a good time, it has passed. Instead of attempting to micro-manage global affairs, America should again become a normal country, strong enough to protect itself, but no longer claiming responsibility for maintaining global security, stability, and prosperity. Doing so isn't possible, at least at an affordable price.

Empire isn't worth the risk to American society or the lives of American military personnel. It certainly isn't worth the cost, especially at a time of economic crisis. Let us make John Quincy Adams' apt dictum the lodestar of our new foreign policy: America "goes not abroad in search of monsters to destroy. She is the well-wisher to the freedom and independence of all. She is the champion and vindicator only of her own."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I will begin this letter with my first complement to you and yours for the many hours and credits [so called money] that you have contributed to produce the Redemption Manual – 4th Edition. If you recall I have ordered this from you, plus other items, off and on for about ten years. I want to thank you very much for helping all of us that have been dumbed down so much by the "Public Fool System" and other organizations.

I thank you all very much for your help and trouble which I will never forget.

Sincerely,
Larry Woodson

...

Please submit your letter to the editor.

Dear Editor:

At present, my job assignment is Law Clerk. As a mostly self-taught post conviction "writ writer," I stay busy shaking my head in befuddlement over that which comes out of the courts.

A bright moment occurred yesterday. It appears that Appellant Claire Atteberry of 'The American's Bulletin' successfully appealed the Literature Review Committee's decision to reject the Redemption Manual, 4th Edition. It also appears that the decision "to issue the publication to inmates" was made just 3-1/2 months ago. The word trickled down to those concerned in a 23 page update of the rejection list. THANK YOU, Claire.

Most of those here that are interested in the Manual have discovered that said book was on the "Burn" list. Word will now be spread of its availability.

a crash; but has everything to do with the good ole boys being deeply in debt to other countries and those countries want their money! I’m not surprised that big media such as CNN is doing the brain-washing by telling us that it’s the peoples money, our tax dollars that’s been squandered and lost by phantom corporations. There is no money!

The financial market crash is caused and implemented because Americans no longer have faith in government because “we” can no longer blindly support the continuation of operating in treason against Americans.

The crash is the direct loss of faith in the private Federal Reserve System’s own debt-note-dollars. Americans aren’t broke; government is broke! Don’t let the bought and paid for Medias’ brainwash you into believing that Americans’ owe anyone anything. Those debt notes were created on the backs of the American peoples’. We are the true creditors of government. Government owes us and they know it; and pray we don’t find that out. That’s why governments’ groveling and pleading to us! Those notes have no value at all unless you’r one of the owners of the Federal Reserve System, Inc., one of the Trilateral Commissioners, or CEO’s of Washington’s private good ole boys government, who must be heavily invested in the “Federal Reserve System, Inc.,” institutions or they couldn’t hold a de facto office. ALL in a position of power stand to lose if THEY deliberately crash their own creation. Americans’ need to distance themselves, and let evil destroy evil.

A financial crash has nothing to do with lawful money or Americans being in debt. Government is deeply in debt to Americans and other countries. Threatening a financial crash has everything to do with government’s loss of bargaining power, loss of credibility, overspending, over lending/giving away and gross mismanagements of its own private corporations built under the mother ship corporation of the Federal Reserve System, Inc. That’s where it all began with the creation of and printing of unlawful, illegal and unconstitutional Federal Reserve Notes as representative of America’s monetary exchange. The Notes are worthless on face value; and to monetize the notes (cash in) they must be back by something. It’s my understanding that those debt notes are backed by undisclosed contracts created by the good ole boys government on the head count of every man, women and child in North America.

Government is broke, untrustworthy and being exposed at an alarming rate, right now. Those corporate CEO’s allegedly campaigning to help America are really campaigning to save their own skins! Do you really feel that overnight each one saw the light, changed their hearts and severed their relationships with the good ole boys government? NO. Each one is representative of the good ole boys government! Governments’ not gotten its priorities or responsibilities correct from its very existence as far as their duties to and for the people, first. Instead, our country and people aren’t even a consideration. Government has stolen and used the people whom THEY pretend to represent. In truth, government can’t disclose or represent us because the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, INC., is not government; but a private Delaware corporation. Ask them! So, what’s the upside of our countries current state of ruination? In the year 2004-2005 Chase Manhattan, the biggest banking system in North American was taken over by China without a shot fired. Recently I’ve seen Chase Manhattan credit cards and loans being reintroduced in North America with the new owners undisclosed. The silent and gradual China take over is caused by the good ole boys greed, low morals and unchecked powers where they “sold” on paper to China pieces of gold certificates that had already been sold in full to other buyers in other countries. Government’s intent was to repay China without their knowledge of government fraud by repaying both the original gold certificates and fraudulent certificates before either buyer was the wiser. Instead, the market began to fall and profits were lost because there was/is nothing backing the certifications, no gold or precious metals! That’s why the good ole boys have been running around the world trying to secure support from other countries, investing our wealth into other countries (not about war) as warning to China that America has warring supporters. Those who defaulted on their investments were hushed over the certificate swindle, bought and paid for with Americans’ credit! True, government is broke; but Americans’ aren’t.

Now, too many good ole boy deals have been defaulted and gone bad; therefore those good ole boys are losing credibility with even the bought and paid for countries because THEY are no longer reliable at home as credible leadership or abroad as credible investments.

It appears that the good ole boys government has few places to go into exile; well not where they’d want to be, anyways. They have financially burned their own people, burned investors and destroyed many more countries and murdered many more peoples’ than their own! Perhaps China will put a bounty on the heads of each one of the good ole boys in government that have cheated and lied to them! Americans must understand that knowledge is key, beware of and stay out of government fraud if you can because right now remedies are few, if available at all to Americans. Refuse to sign anymore body count contracts!

Thank you and bless you to all my prisoner readers this past year. My heart grieves for each one of you who have been falsely imprisoned as I’ve had many requests to “help” on an individual basis. My reply is this: evidenced by what you read, and our countries current state of chaos, those of us in this movement to restore lawful government and attain government accountability are in a battle for everyone. Therefore, “I” am helping you as is thousands of others in this movement to save what’s left of our freedom because on the inside or outside of prison walls we are all in prison because we are not free. Keep your faith and hope and know that many are working in your behalf to free us all. Wow! Another year has come and gone, and mostly I’m grateful and thankful for all the staff at the American’s Bulletin for their courage, strength, research and efforts in helping thousands by exposing the illegal government and working to restore a lawful government by re-educating and re-empowering Americans; and, mostly for providing me a place to exercise my First Amendment Rights.

The very best to all!
Happy New Year “2009”

‘RIGHTS’

f’ god damn god given deal is that!?!...NO RIGHTS AT ALL!? Why would God give different people in different countries a different numbers of different rights? Boredom? Amusement? Bad arithmetic? Do we find out at long last after all this time that God is weak in math skills? Doesn’t sound like divine planning to me. Sounds more like human planning . Sounds more like one group trying to control another group. In other words...business as usual in America. Now, if you think you do have rights, I have one last assignment for ya. Next time you’re at the computer get on the Internet, go to Wikipedia. When you get to Wikipedia, in the search field for Wikipedia, I want to type in, “Japanese-Americans 1942” and you’ll find out all about your precious f rights. Alright. You know about it.

In 1942 there were 110,000 Japanese-American citizens, in good standing, law abiding people, who were thrown into internment camps simply because their parents were born in the wrong country. That’s all they did wrong. They had no right to a lawyer, no right to a fair trial, no right to a jury of their peers, no right to due process of any kind. The only right they had was...right this way, into the internment camps.

Just when these American citizens needed their rights the most...their government took them away, and rights aren’t rights if someone can take’em away. They’re privileges. That’s all we’ve ever had in this country is a bill of TEMPORARY privileges; and if you read the news, even badly, you know the list get’s shorter, and shorter, and shorter. Yep, sooner or later the people in this country are going to realize the government doesn’t give a f about them. The government doesn’t care about you, or your children, or your rights, or your welfare or your safety. It simply doesn’t give a F about you. It’s interested in its own power. That’s the only thing...keeping it, and expanding wherever possible.

Personally when it comes to rights, I think one of two things is true: either we have unlimited rights, or we have no rights at all.” I do hope you found some humor and some thought as I did.

‘KINGDOM’

a decade ago, he reported that the Majesties had a 100 Trillion Dollar law-suit against the STATE OF HAWAII which is a total fabrication and false statement. I talked to Mr. Drew Millhon personally and after seeing the results of his interview, insights and abilities to report to America, the people and the masses around the world, I say “Here’s to You Mr. Millhon!”, with news reporters like you helping to shape people’s views of the world, reporting your pervasive source of unreality, fostering insecurity, lies and ignorance-our society and people will definitely be kept in the dark, that’s good journalism there Mr. Millhon, I’m sure the Mass Media, powerful groups, governments and large corporations are pleased with your “Context” being the result of the assumptions behind the facts, and of course are pleased that this context is all the more powerful because it is neither stated nor discussed.

In a better world, journalism is vital to the health of our democracy, the glue of information that holds this complex nation together, journalism tells us most of what we know about the world beyond our own experience by going where its audience cannot or will not. In a better world journalists and reporters keep watch on the government and other powerful institutions, exposing wrongdoing and injustice, these thoughts of a better world and good journalism are FAR from what I saw reported on Good Morning America Weekend Edition October 19, 2008, well hidden inside a piece called “How Hawaii Shaped Obama, it’s well beyond what we see in our everyday papers and local channels, so in this day and age it is imperative that we seek to find the truth, to uncover the facts, to do our own research and take a big hard look around ourselves and see if we are part of the problem that we all face or part of the solution we all truly want.

And so with all the distractions and obstacles at hand the Kingdom of Hawaii, it’s King and Queen and their loyal subjects continue with their international obligations and connections and most important their ongoing quest and unwavering commitment to ensure and protect the Absolute Monarchy of the Kingdom of Hawaii Nation; these are truly the modern day warriors of the Hawaiian Nation.

Patriotism

"Patriotism means to stand by the country. It does not mean to stand by the President or any other public official, save exactly to the degree in which he himself stands by the country. It is patriotic to support him, insofar as he efficiently serves the country. It is unpatriotic not to oppose him to the exact extent that by inefficiency or otherwise he fails in his duty to stand by the country."

-- Theodore Roosevelt -
President - United States of America

Those running for the office of the President, one will be elected only as the Chief Executive Officer of a de-facto, bankrupt, Non-profit (religious) Delaware Corporation #2193946!

So don't get so excited!

However, "Ye shall know them by their fruit"! Let's give the New President 8 months to see if lives up to his campaign promises!
